Lora,
Have fun
all the years
of your life.
Sorry it's so short,
but I don't know
what to say,
Luv ya,

Howdy
Laura,
Right now I'm sitting on the curb waiting for the bus
and it's 61° degrees
so it's not too long
Hope you won't be too long
your out of High School,
It was fun at Art School,
See you soon

"THE GOLDEN YEARS"

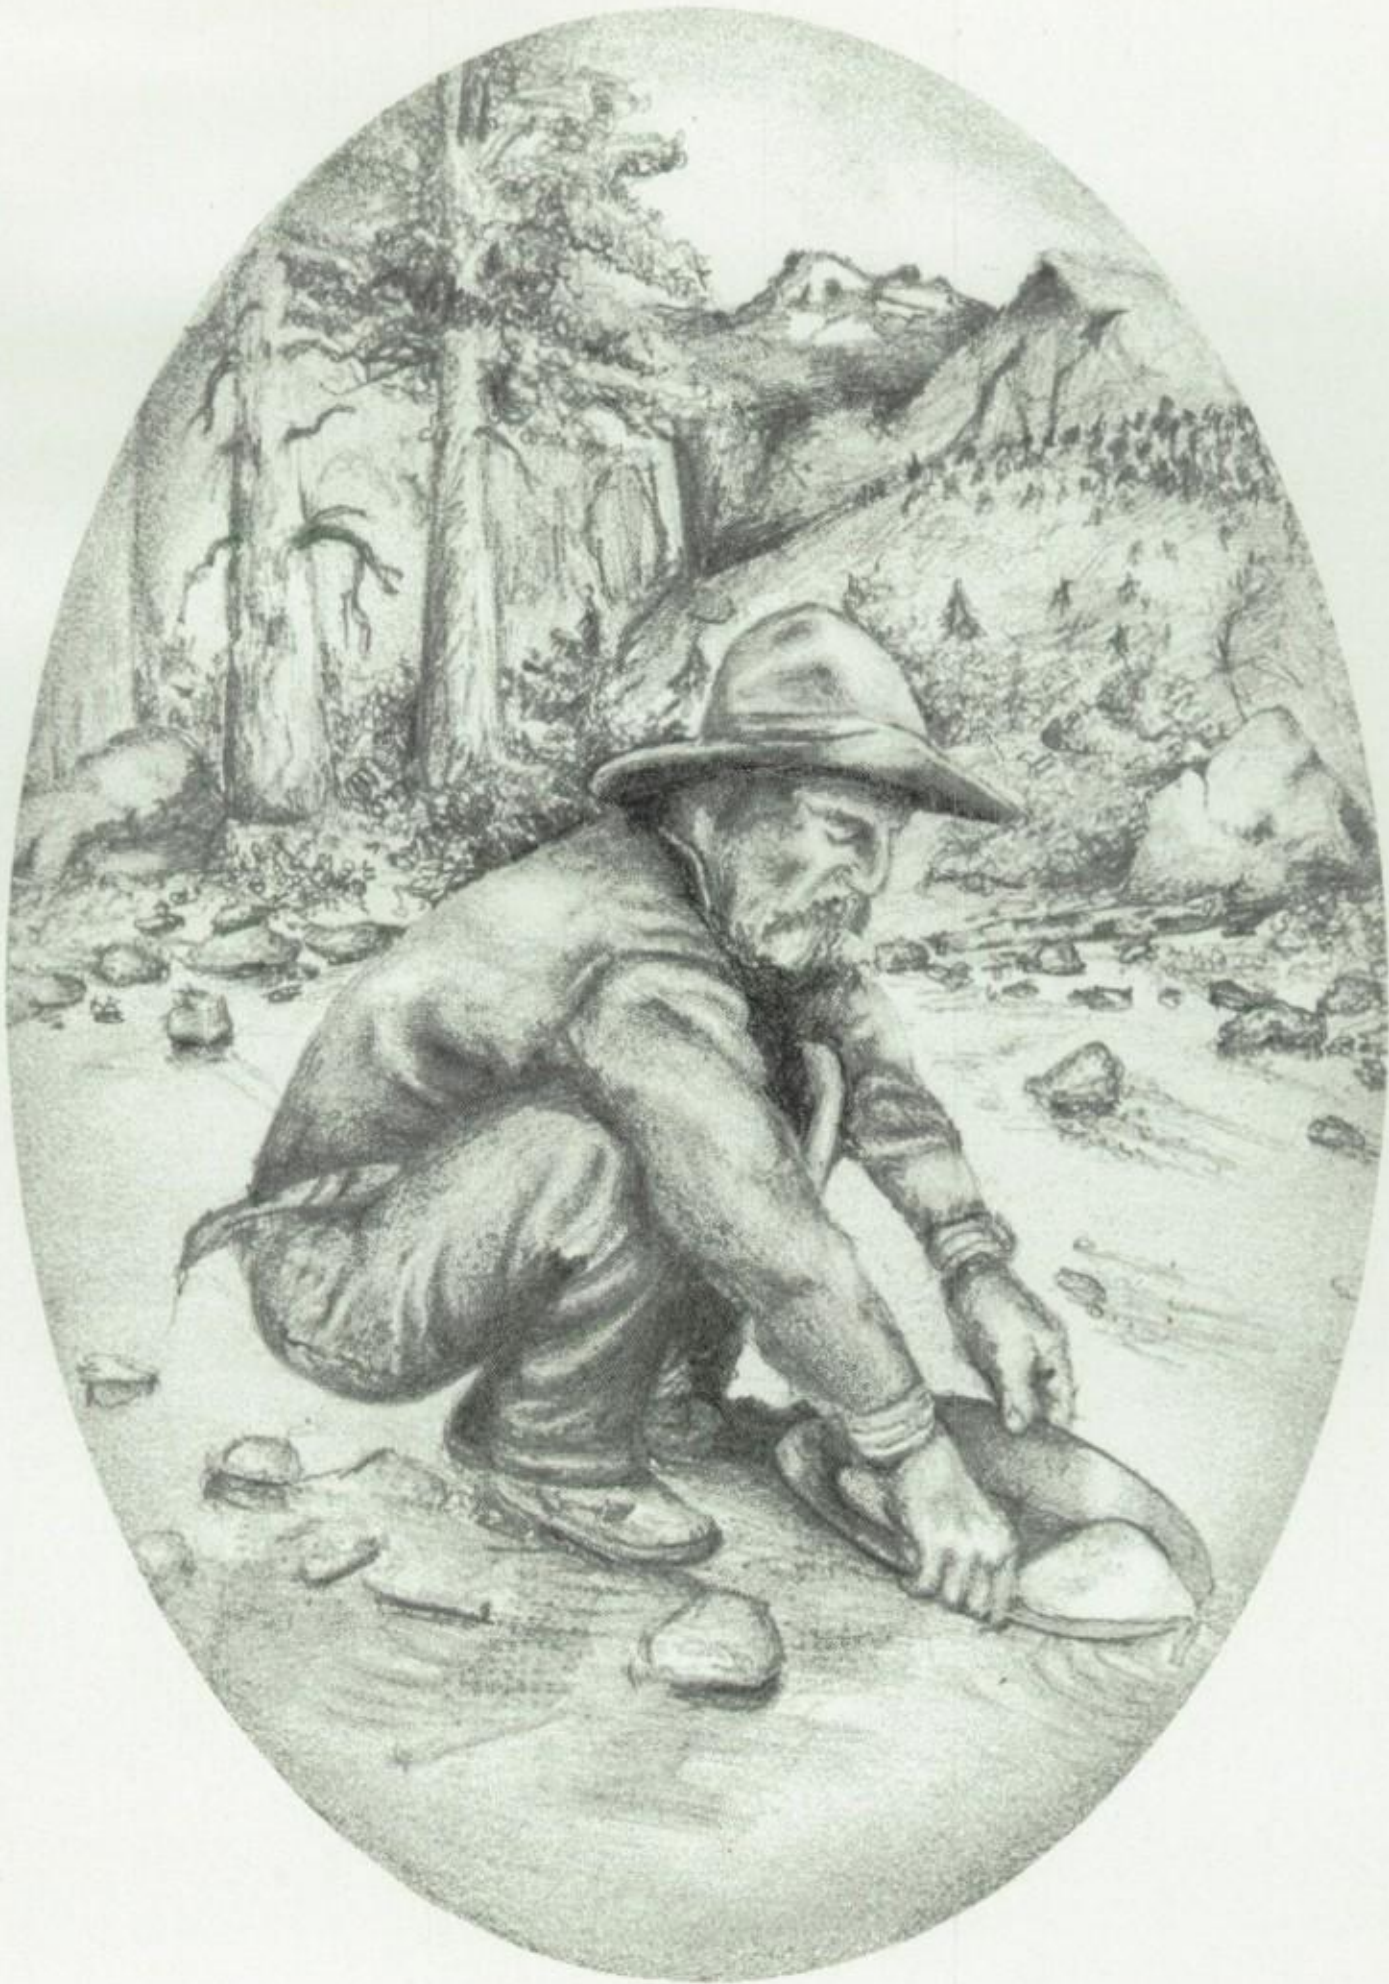

1848-1973

With the discovery of gold in the hills of California, January 24, 1848, the lives of 400,000 men throughout the world were suddenly changed. In his hand, James Marshal held Nuggets from the tailrace of a sawmill he was building for John Sutter at Coloma on the American River. Almost overnight came an influx of humanity which transformed California into a scene of chaos, and also accelerated the growth of the West and enlarged the nation's wealth. The men of the Gold Rush represented every phase of life--Southern Aristocracy, impoverished foreigners, the learned, the illiterate, the paragon, and the scoundrel--all embarking on hazardous journeys by land and sea to cast their lot in the game of chance. These ventures often held suffering, despair, and even death. But the vision of gold in the Great Western slopes impelled them onward.

In this book we will try to display various contrasts and similarities between the gold miners of the 1840's and ourselves in 1973.

Gold!

"They tore the streams to ribbons
blasted hills to dust
Washed down mighty mountains with wild and maddening lust.
Clutching eager fingers
dug through muck and stone
To grasp her and to hold her from all, their very own."
(MORE THAN GOLD)

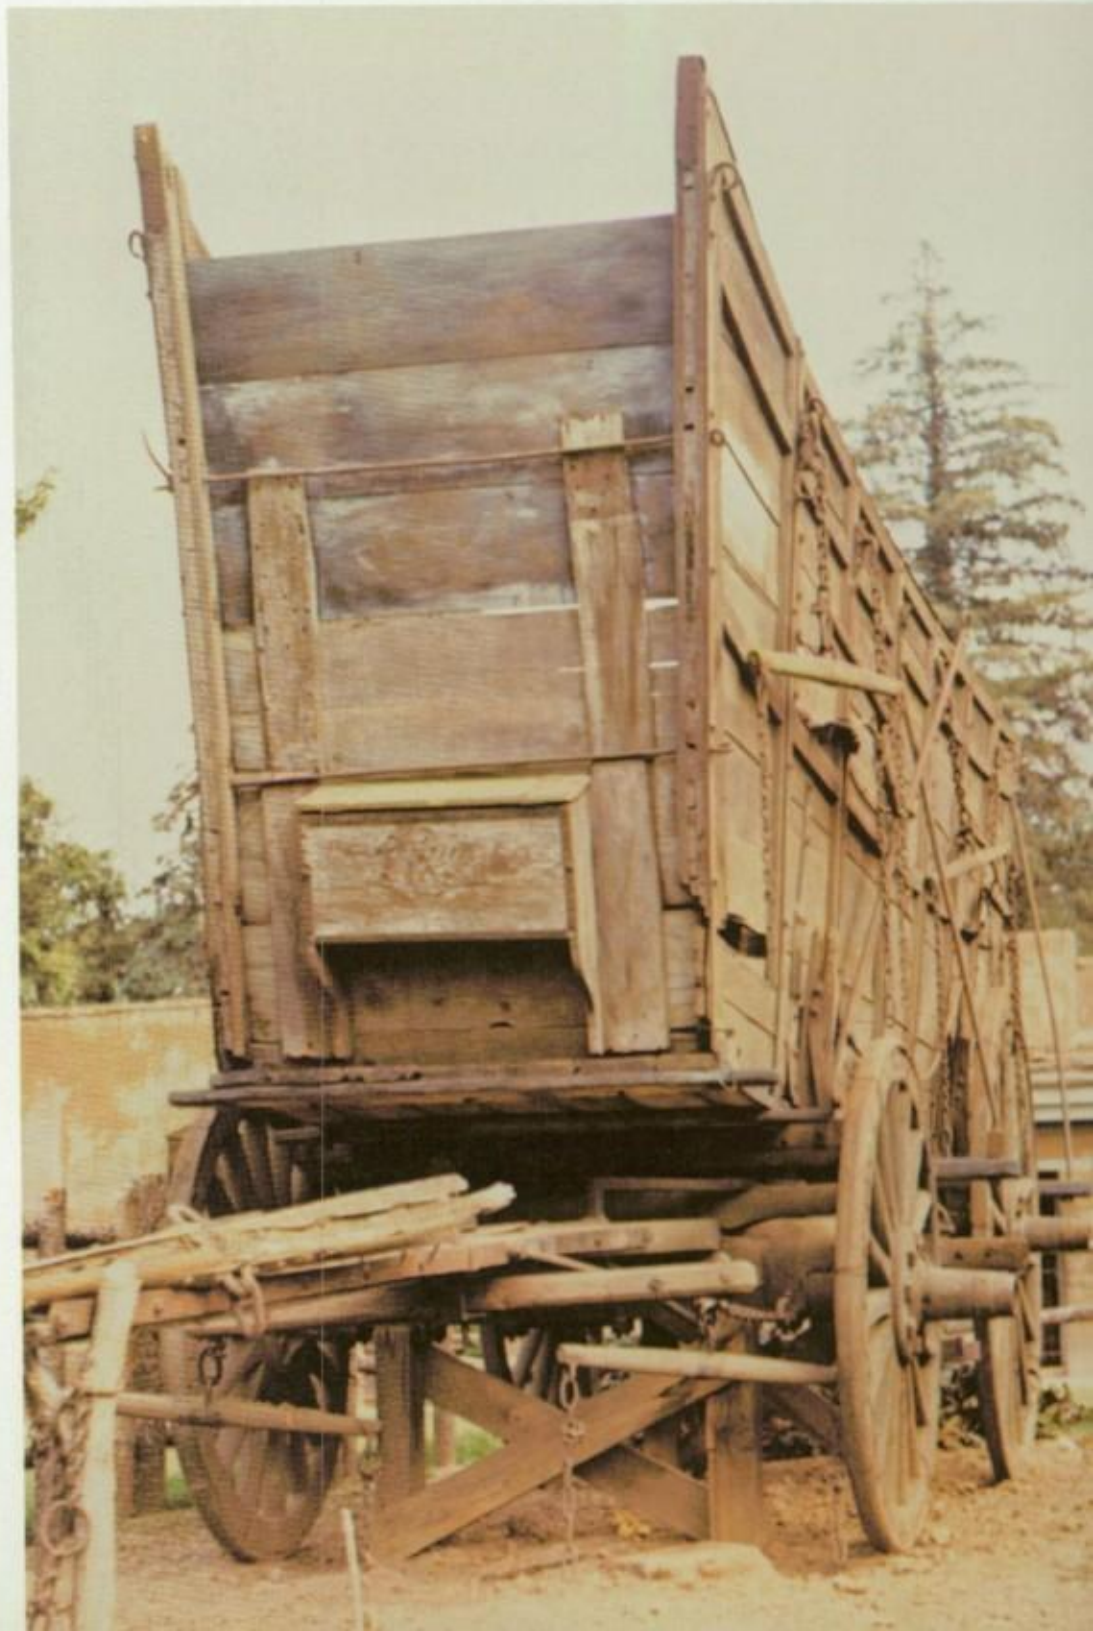

1848-1973

TIME AND THE RIVER

In the 1840's, gold miners from every phase of life stormed the American River to seek their fortunes. Gold pans, picks, and shovels along with ore cars and the familiar mining wheel were among the scenery. Today these scenes are faded into the background by the popular favorite all-age sport of raft, canoe, and inner tube riding.

1848-1973

BY LAND AND BY SEA

Transportation for the miner in the 1840's was slow but effective. Horses and mules were readily seen along the river and throughout the mining camps. The stagecoach or the covered wagon and ships were used for longer distances. Along with these methods of transportation, the bicycle proved to be an interesting and enjoyable form of entertainment. Since then, our transportation system has improved considerably. From the old bicycle to the modern day ten speed and from the stagecoach or covered wagon to the age of the automobile.

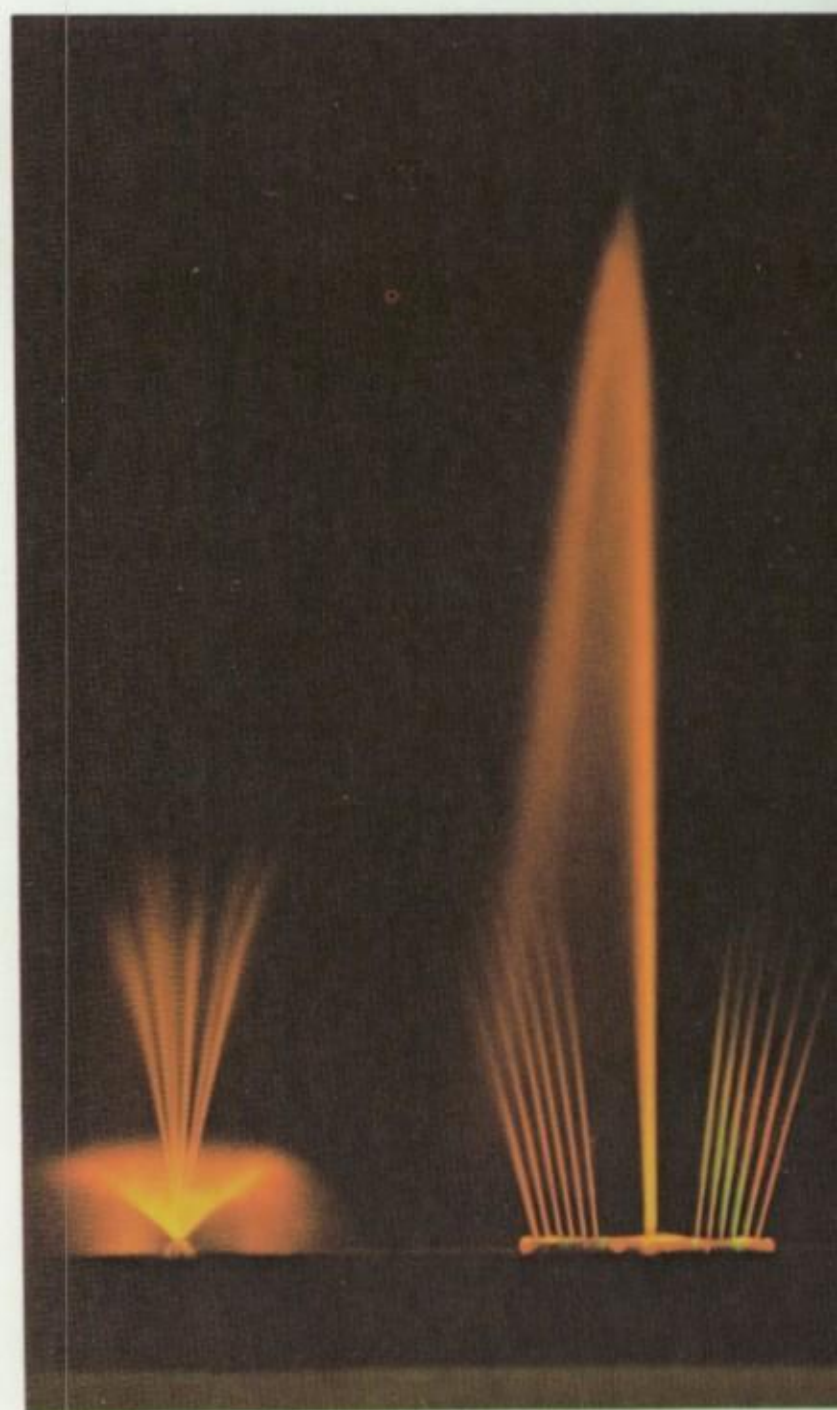

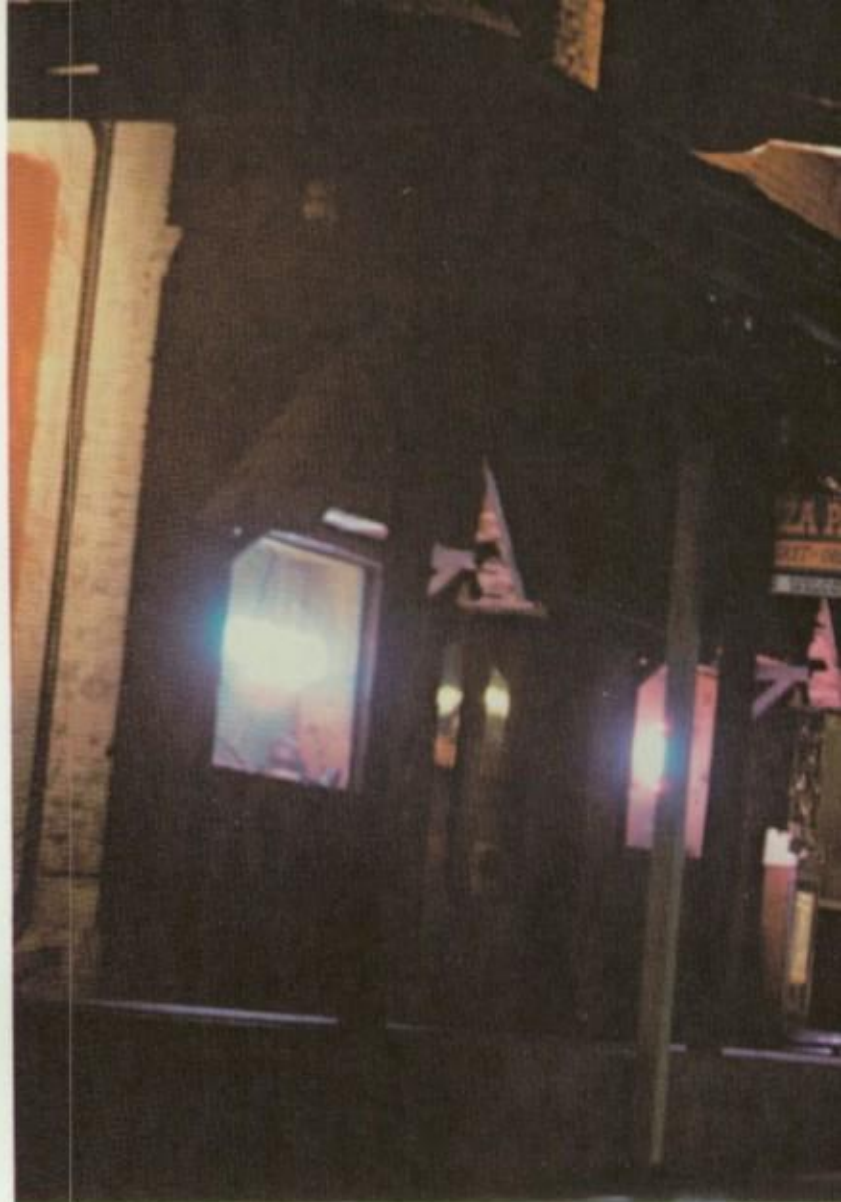

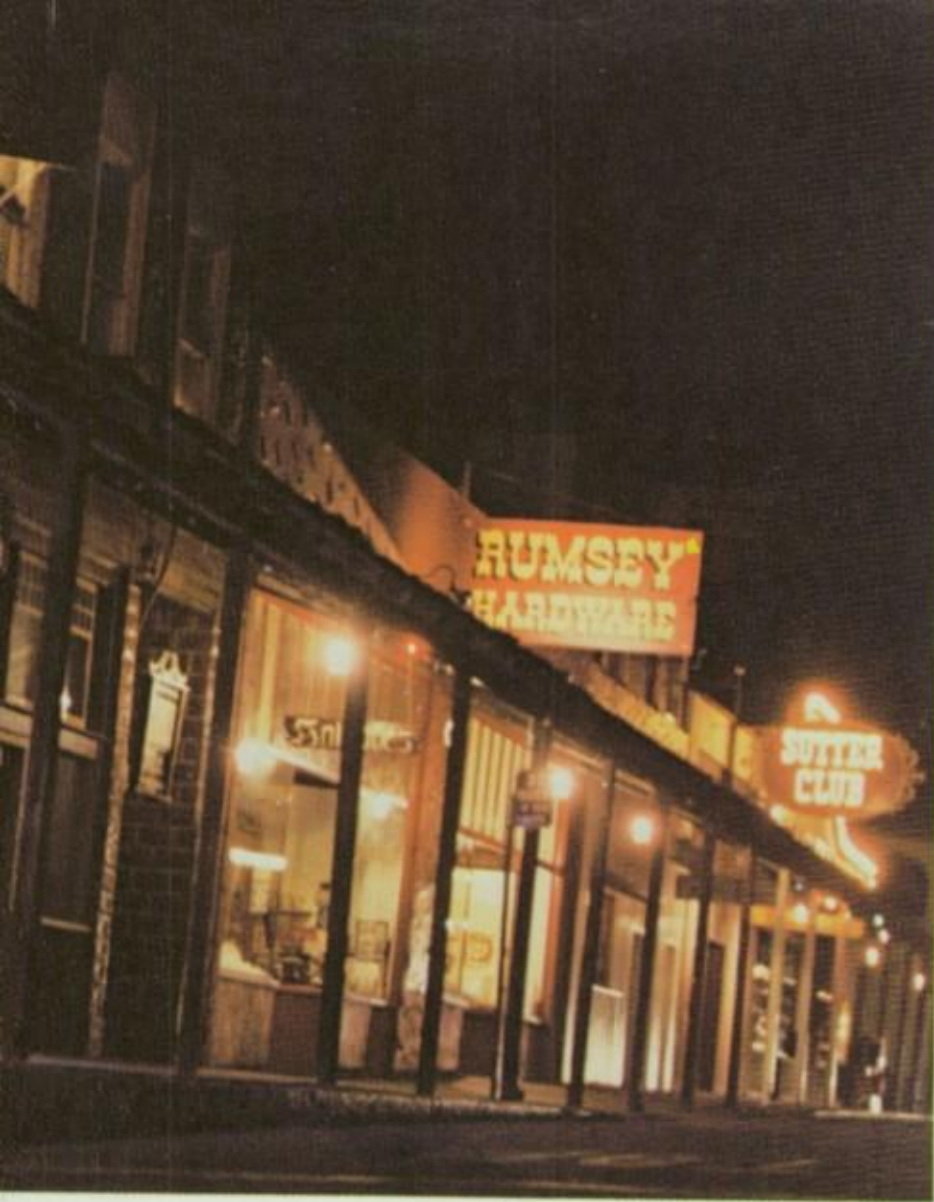

1848-1973

IN BLUE JEANS AND GOWNS

Along with the rigged miner dressed in his traditional attire of baggy pants, a dirty rolled up sleeved shirt and the floppy hat on his head, other clothing styles were worn by the men and women in the Gold Rush Era. In our modern society there exists for both men and women an infinite number of choices relating to clothing styles. No longer are pants and shirts worn only by men, and the frilly lacy pastel colored blouses only by women. Our society has widened its views considerably from the days of the forty-niners.

1848-1973

OF WOOD AND OF STONE

From weather-beaten mining cabins and towns of stone and iron to modern day skyscrapers made of concrete, marble, and glass; architecture has played an important part in the changes of our society. In the days of the forty-niners, wooden shacks were frequently seen throughout the various mining camps. The buildings in town were usually constructed of stone so they would last longer. Today the majority of the homes are made from stucco, concrete and glass. This is undoubtedly due to the ever-changing progress of invention.

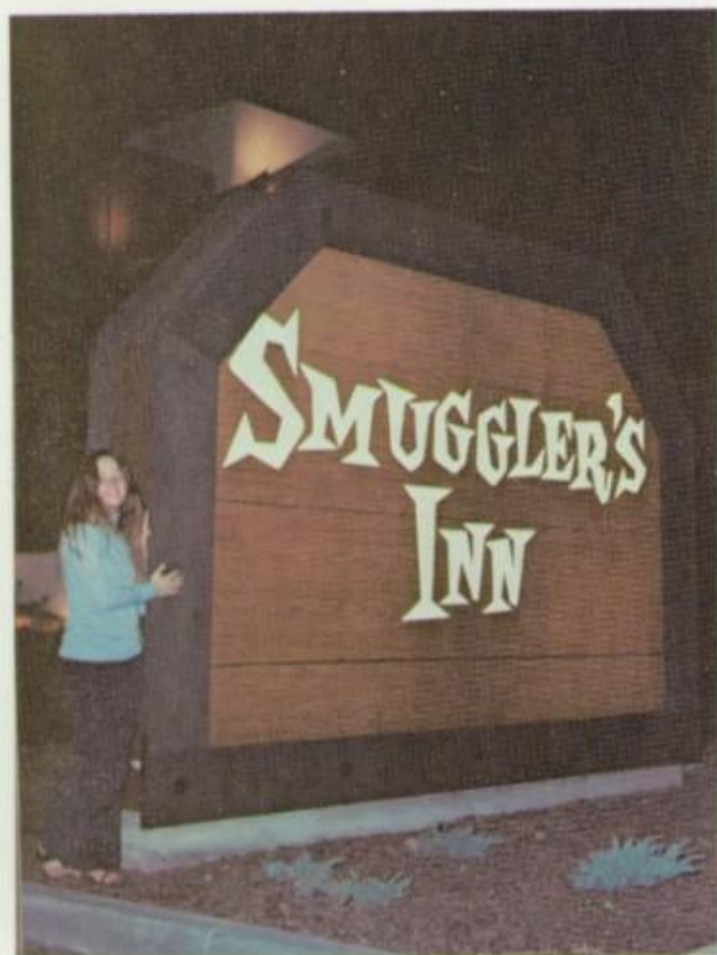

1848-1973

SUBSISTENCE GIVES WAY TO INDULGENCE

Eating, once limited to satisfying fundamental needs, has now developed into a national pastime. More and more people today are eating out rather than preparing their meals in the privacy of their homes as did the forty-niners.

1848-1973

LEISURE OVERCOMES TOIL

During the Gold Rush limited entertainment was offered for the miner who, after a hard day's work, would come into town to spend their money. Typical entertainment for the evening was the theater where melodramas, and dancehall entertainment were held. Today, in 1973, the variety of entertainment has widened considerably. Movies, concerts, a trip to the zoo, and a day at the park are only a few of the activities available to fill the ever-increasing leisure hours.

CURRICULUM

The style of our education today has gone from that of the old-fashioned conventional schoolhouse to the relaxed modern day atmosphere of today.

Marla Crane takes time out from her ceramics project to talk to a fellow student.

Mr. Joseph Cannariato searches through a book for new ideas for his drawing class.

Mr. Richard Ketelle, Department Chairman inspects some art work done by his students.

Self-Expression Is Focal Point of Art Classes

The main goal of all art classes was to provide an opportunity for students to express themselves. This was done through ceramics, painting, drawing, and commercial art.

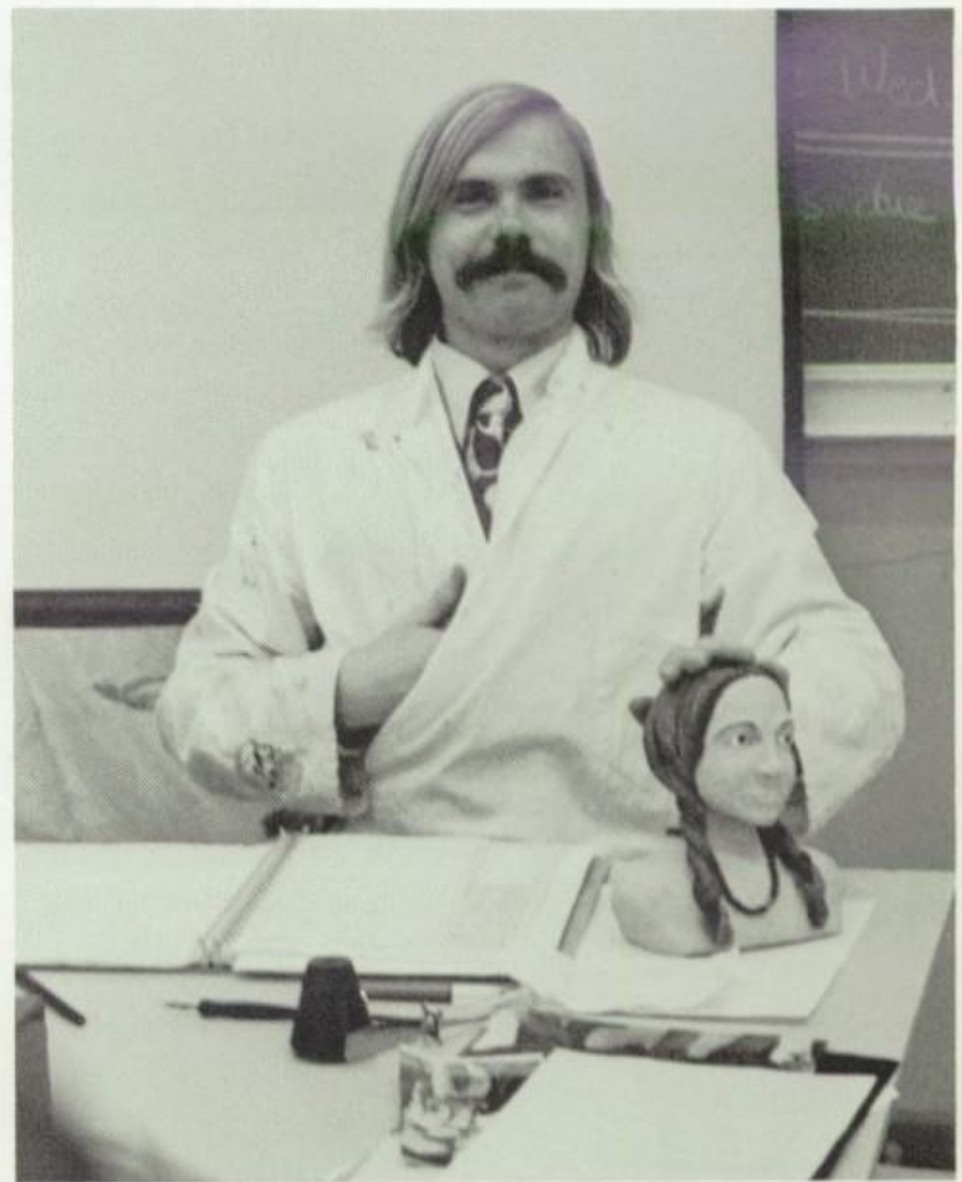

Although students were given assignments, the chance to express their feelings individually was still present. The student then had the chance to sell his work or present it in art shows. These classes provided unlimited opportunities.

An art student shows his techniques to the rest of the class.

Miss Colleen Collette demonstrates how to throw a pot.

Mr. John Miglavs displays a ceramics project created by junior Sue Davidson.

Mrs. Jean Colwell answers a Clothing 2 student's question.

Mrs. Clara DeLuca sits back and relaxes while her students take a test.

Mrs. Melanie Vance discussing everyone's favorite subject - FOOD!

Decorative Arts Gains in Popularity

Decorative Arts is a class that is rapidly gaining popularity down in the Home Economics wing. Decorative Arts was really like a crafts class where girls learned macrame, crochet, finger weaving and other projects that were both fun and useful. Although the enrollment was 100% female, who knows what with men's lib on the rise! Speaking of men's lib, the Foods for Men classes enjoyed preparing and eating exotic dishes from around the world.

Mrs. Susan Oelke searches for some new projects for her Decorative Arts classes.

Mrs. Mary Hilscher talks over a project with a Decorative Arts student.

Mrs. Pat Reitter, Department Chairman, smiles as she sits behind a stack of papers to correct.

Work + Knowledge = Learning

The Math Department this year was led by Mr. Norvin "Super-N" Nolte. This outstanding individual has served Bella Vista faithfully for many years as department chairman.

To sum it up, Mr. Nolte is but a fraction of our fantastic math department, which included many other GREAT teachers.

Mrs. Sharon Baker greets her students before they begin their daily algebra assignment.

Mr. Norvin Nolte and Mr. Gust Dames enjoy arguing about math problems.

Mrs. Sylvia Huffman waits for a response from her geometry students, and waits, and waits.

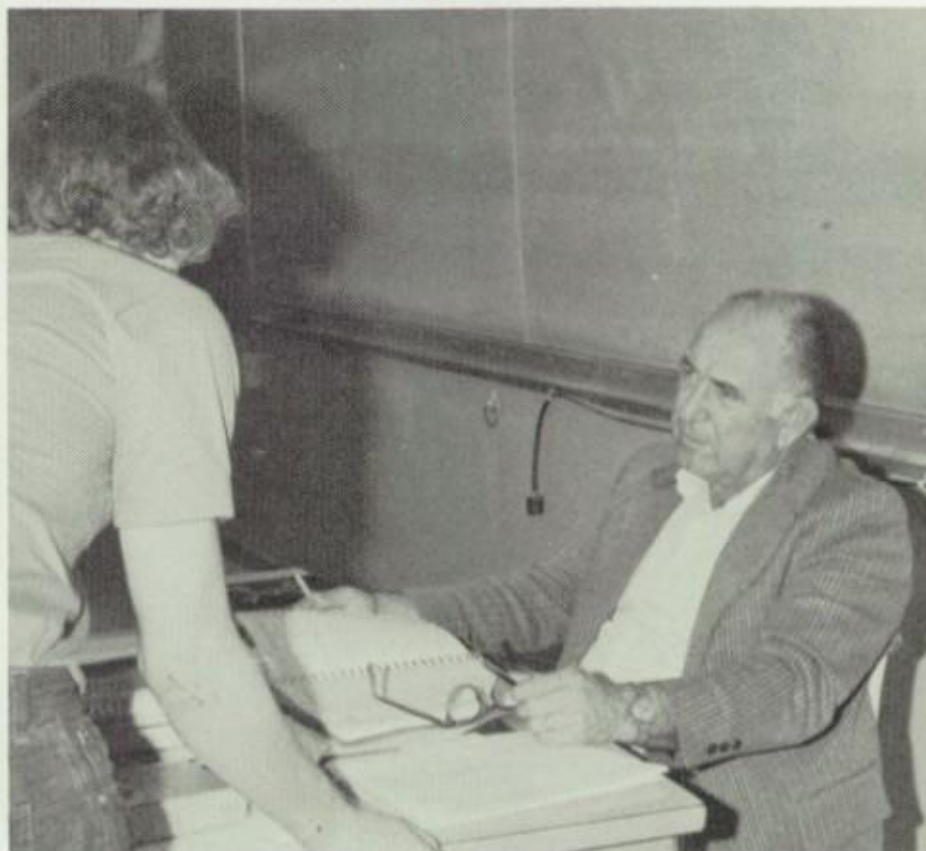

Mrs. Doris Martin is amazed at how well this student has done his assignment.

Mr. Ken Riswald grades papers during his Prep period.

By the look on Mr. George Huff's face, we can tell that he is as much puzzled by the student's question as the student is.

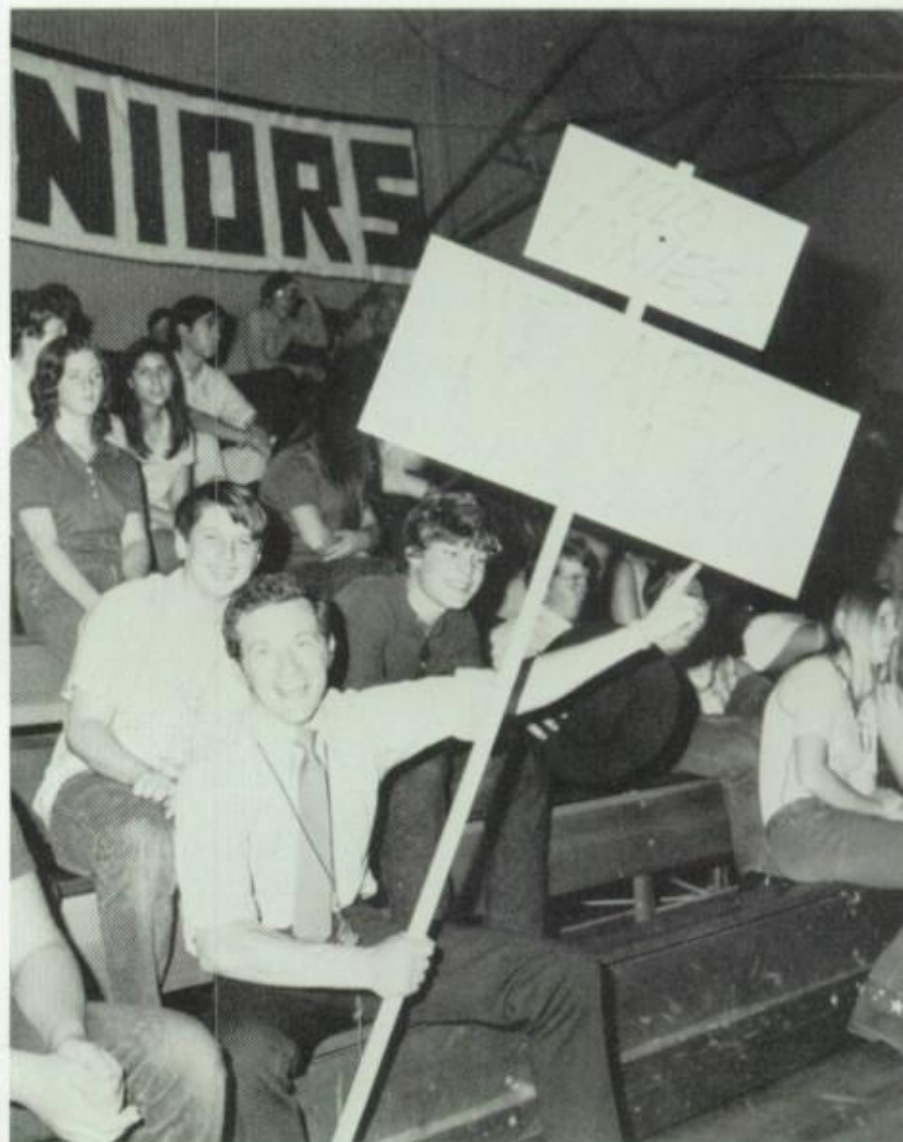

Miss Nancy Maiello changes places with the students for a moment as she listens to a student explain an algebra problem.

Industrial Arts Teaches New Skills

Many exciting skills can be learned in the Industrial Arts Department. These include mechanical drawing, Radio-TV, auto shop, wood shop and electronics.

Industrial Arts classes can help in choosing a career, or a student can take them just for enjoyment.

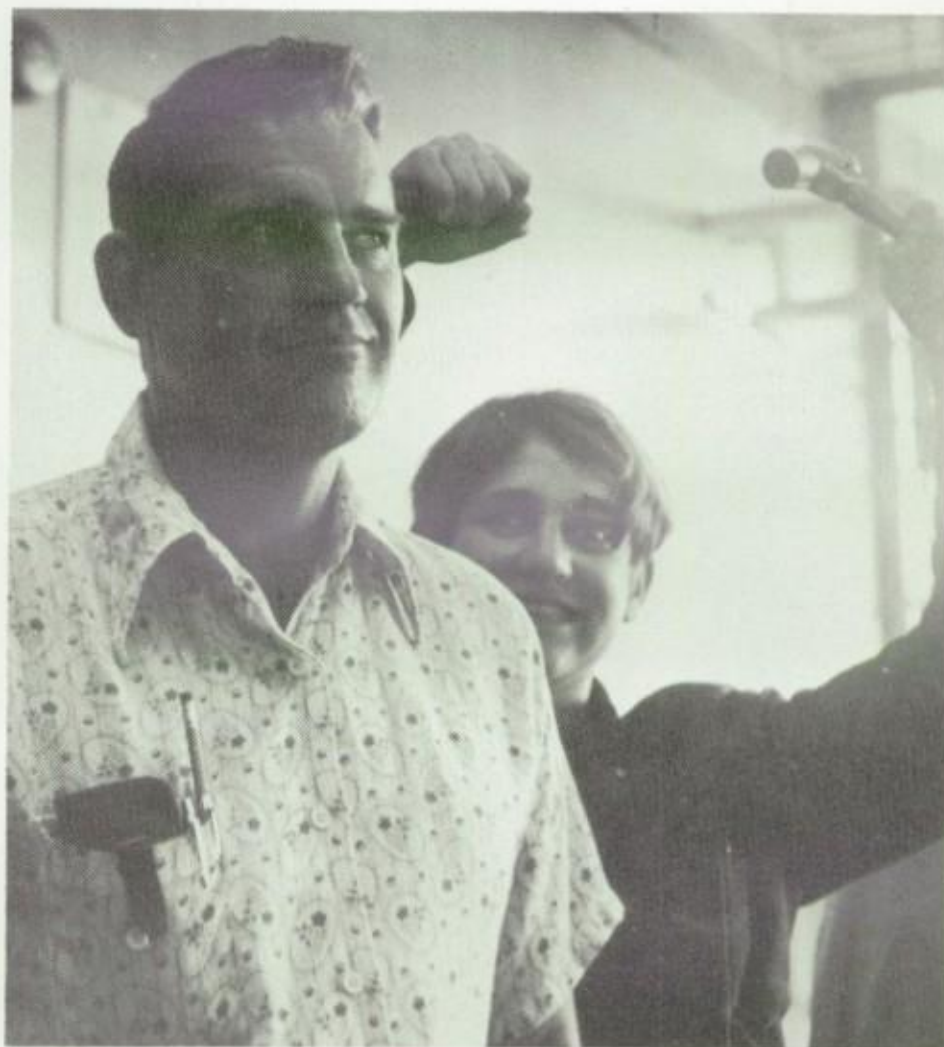

Mr. John Miglavs explains the techniques of enlarging pictures to his Photo I class.

Mr. Michael Bruce devoted much time to being department chairman, along with his woodshop duties.

Mr. Wayne Russell gets an affectionate tap from one of his students.

Mr. Robert Mathison lectures to his Electronics class.

The Inside Story of Marconi Tech

Students at Marconi Tech take an extensive training program in the fields of Drafting, Business Machines, Radio and Electronics, Graphic Arts, Auto Mechanics, and Computer Processing.

In order to attend Marconi, the student must have had at least one year of previous study in his subject at his high school. For a few of the classes, at least two years would give a student the skills needed to begin his study at Marconi.

In the year attending Marconi, three periods of each day are spent doing in-depth study, either individually or in a group. In the month before Spring vacation, the students go out into industry. The program is known as "In-Industry". Here, the student is working with a licensed employer. A few examples are the State Department of Architecture and the Design Department of the Aerojet Liquid Propulsion Plant at Nimbus. While in industry, the student works three hours doing what an employee would do, but not receiving the pay. Often, a student will receive a part or full time job if his employer thinks him capable enough.

When a student leaves Marconi, he is confident and now knows he has a skill that will be useful someday soon.

Mr. Paul Mohr caught by surprise at a football game.

The Marching 100 Highlight of Game

Many people do not realize how much time and effort is actually expended by our marching band to make it the best in the district. All during football season the band practiced daily, sometimes twice a day, to keep improving their precision. The Homecoming show was definitely the marching band's highlight performance, when, despite the rain, they gave us an excellent performance. Half time shows didn't take up all their time though; parades and band festivals were also on the "Marching 100's" busy schedule.

Welcome to "Club 7:15"

Pep Band, Jazz Band, and Madrigals arise each morning for zero period to create beautiful music in their own special way. The Pep Band, under the direction of Mr. J. Paul Mohr and Steve Paul, were always on hand at the football and home basketball games to keep the crowd's spirit up. The Jazz Band has been practicing all year for the many concerts held at the end of the year. Madrigals were always ready to sing their heart out for their appreciative audiences. Musical Talent Abounds at B. V.

A Capella Choir, the Choralees, Girl's Glee, and the Orchestra were on hand at all the musical events presented at Bella Vista as well as at events held away. A Capella traveled to Florin Center during the Christmas season, where their music was taped and later played on radio station KFBK. Also during the Christmas season, they sang in Downtown Sacramento in the Federal Buildings. In the spring, all music groups participated in the Golden Empire Music Festival.

Boys P.E. Aids in Building Athletic Skills

A wide variety of courses were offered to this years Boy's P. E. Department. Included were slaughterball, soccer, track and field, water polo and volleyball.

Mr. Gordon Pistoichini headed the department, with the assistance of Mr. Don Driscoll, Athletic Director. Together they have worked to make our Athletic Program one of the finest in the area.

Athletic Director Mr. Don Driscoll watches the football team as they do warm-ups before a game.

Volleyball Tournament Is Highlight of Year

Each year the Girls P. E. classes participates in a $2\frac{1}{2}$ week long volleyball tournament. This year the most outstanding team was B-3, with only one loss. As a special reward, this fabulous team was honored by playing the Girls P. E. faculty.

Miss M'Lisse Johnson concentrates on her grade book.

Miss Barbara Bartley head of the Girls P. E. department.

Mrs. Tamara Yasuda announces the next volleyball game.

Miss Hilda Garcia smiles as she relaxes in her office.

Consumer Economics Debuts in Business Dept.

In an exclusive interview with Mrs. Pat Byrnes, Business Department Chairman, it was learned that the Business Department is a vocational department after taking several Business courses, entry level jobs are available to students. By popular demand, a new course was offered at the semester by Mr. Steve Woessner. The name of the course was consumer economics, and the class helped people to become better buyers.

A business trailer came to B.V. this fall to acquaint students with widely used machines that our school cannot afford to buy. (SEE BELOW PICTURES.)

"Ta da! Here I am! Let's begin another day at our typewriters. asdfjkl;...." exclaims our business teacher, Mr. Jack Gray.

Mrs. Barbara Highly assists a student with one of the machines in the business trailer.

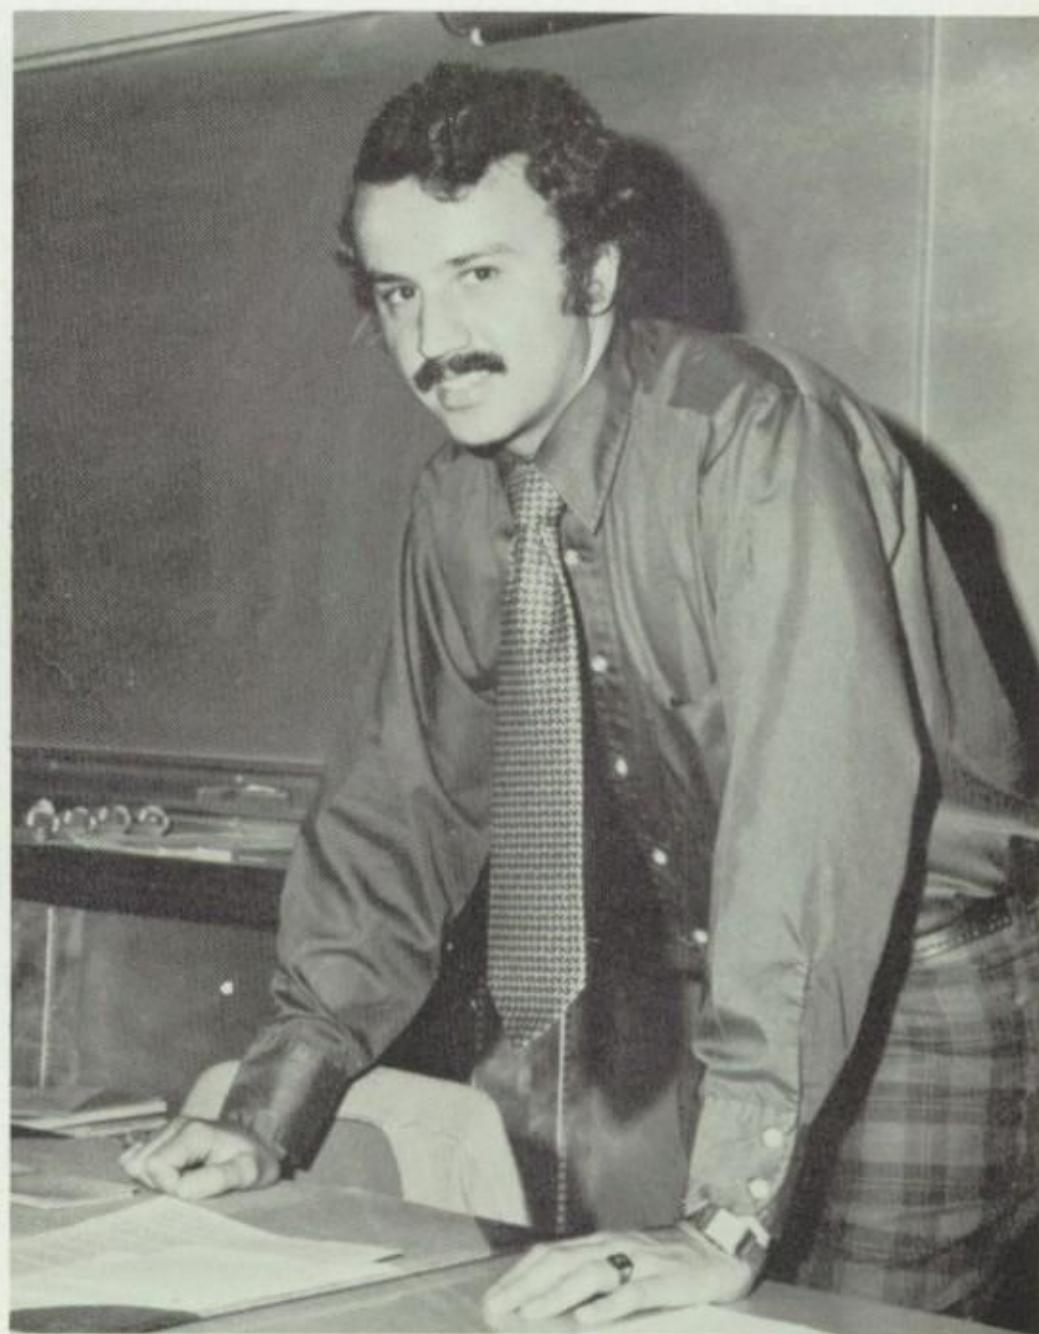

Mr. Steve Woessner enjoys a joke with a student.

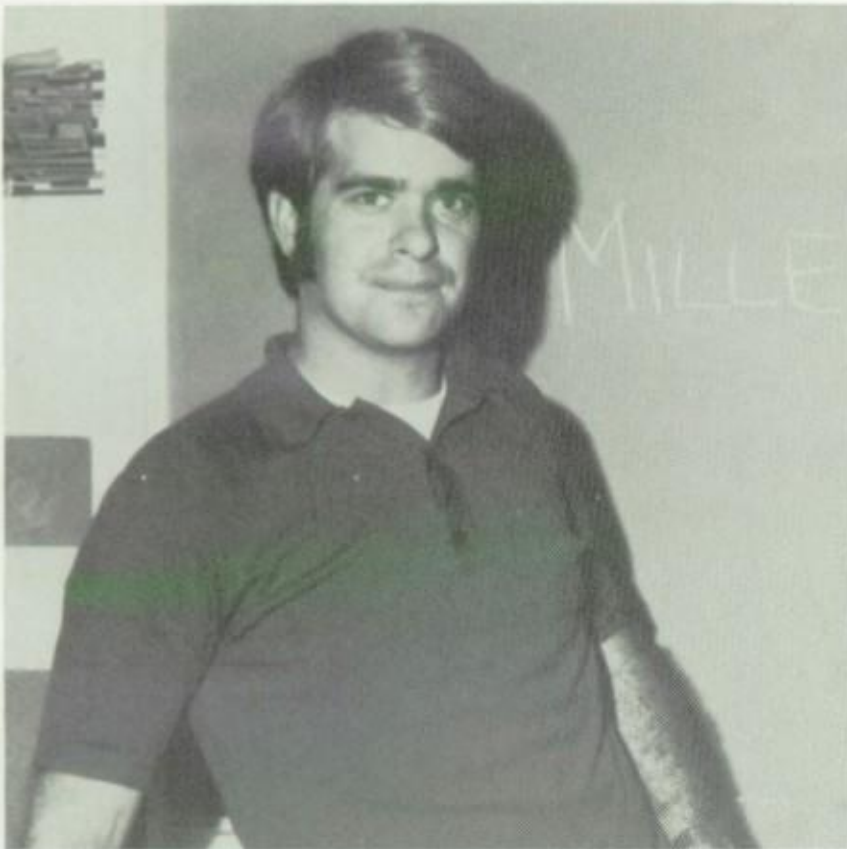

Suprise, suprise. We caught Mrs. Mary Lou Ray as she was dictating to her Shorthand class.

It's amazing how many people mistake Mrs. Pat Byrnes for Raquel Welch????!!

Mr. Vince Candido attempts to complete roll call.

The English Department's newest addition, Mr. Donn Miller, taught Radio-T.V. and Basic English 2.

Consolidation of XL Classes Is Made

This year the English Department decided to try out a new idea—combining all the XL classes so there was only one class per grade. This made it difficult to qualify for an XL class.

Mrs. Wadowski, the department chairman, said "The English Department is always adding ideas and materials to interest, challenge, and make learning fun."

Miss Elisa Zitano relaxes during her Prep period.

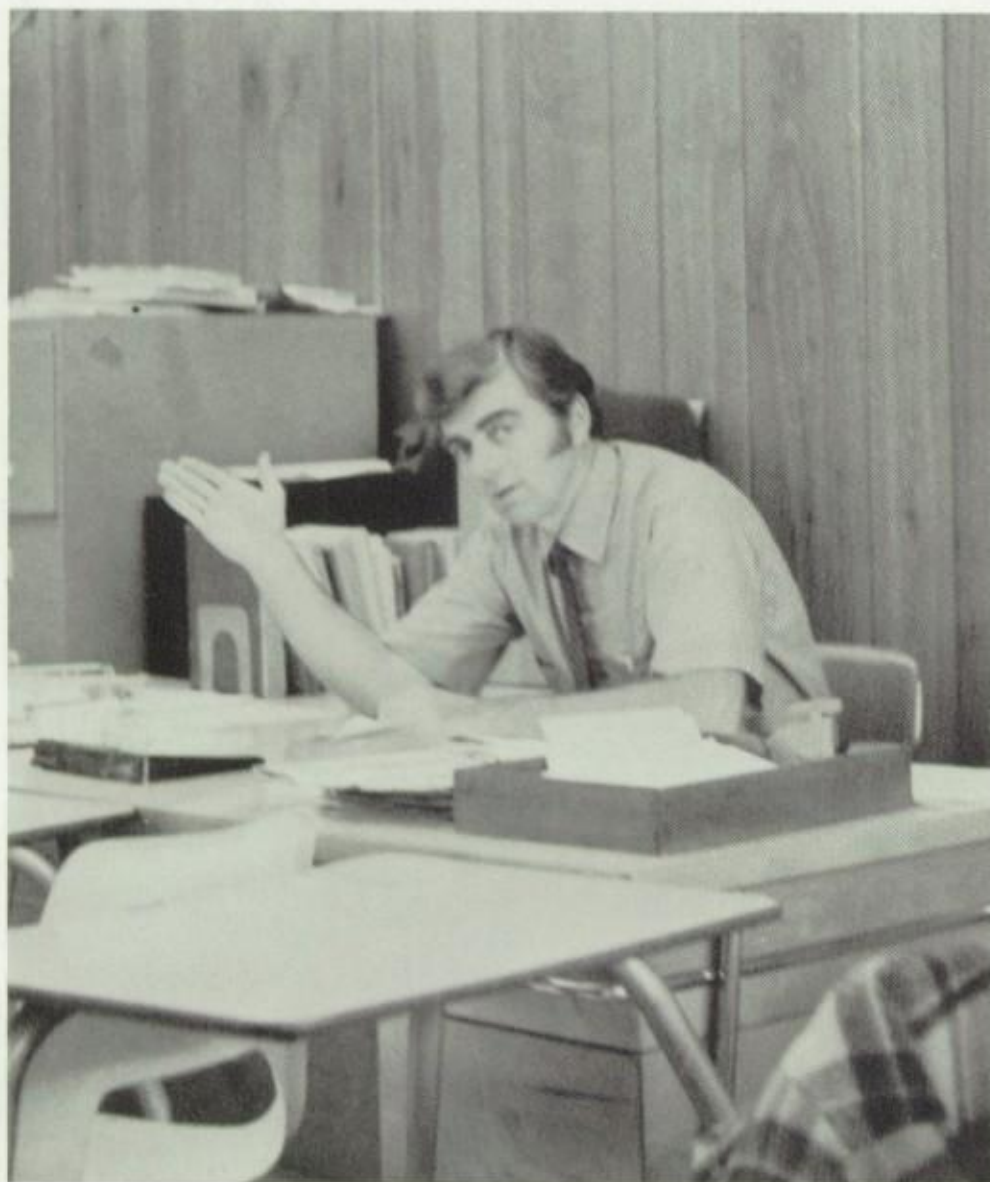

Along with teaching English, Mr. Albert Capevilla served as advisor to the newspaper staff.

Mrs. Gail Dusa pauses while correcting homework papers to talk to one of her students.

Mr. Roger Otte delivers a lecture to his Myths I class.

Always ready with a friendly greeting is Mr. Tom Evans.

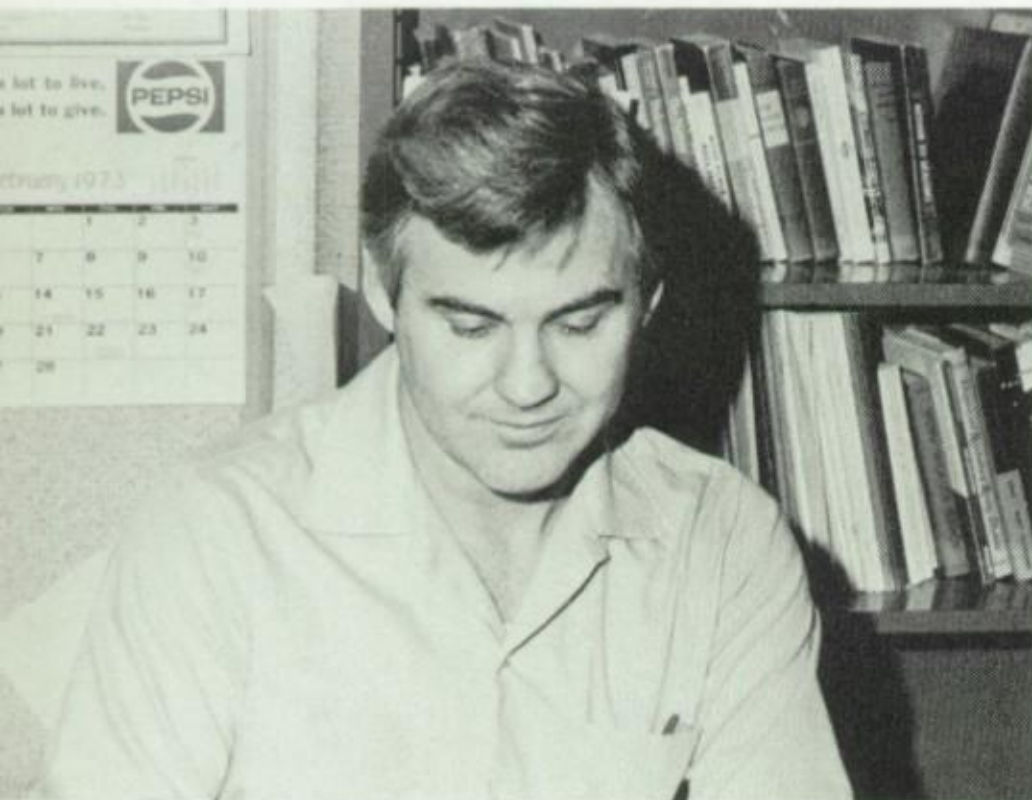

English Classes Teach Communication Skills

Mrs. Pat Linton relaxes during a class Christmas party.

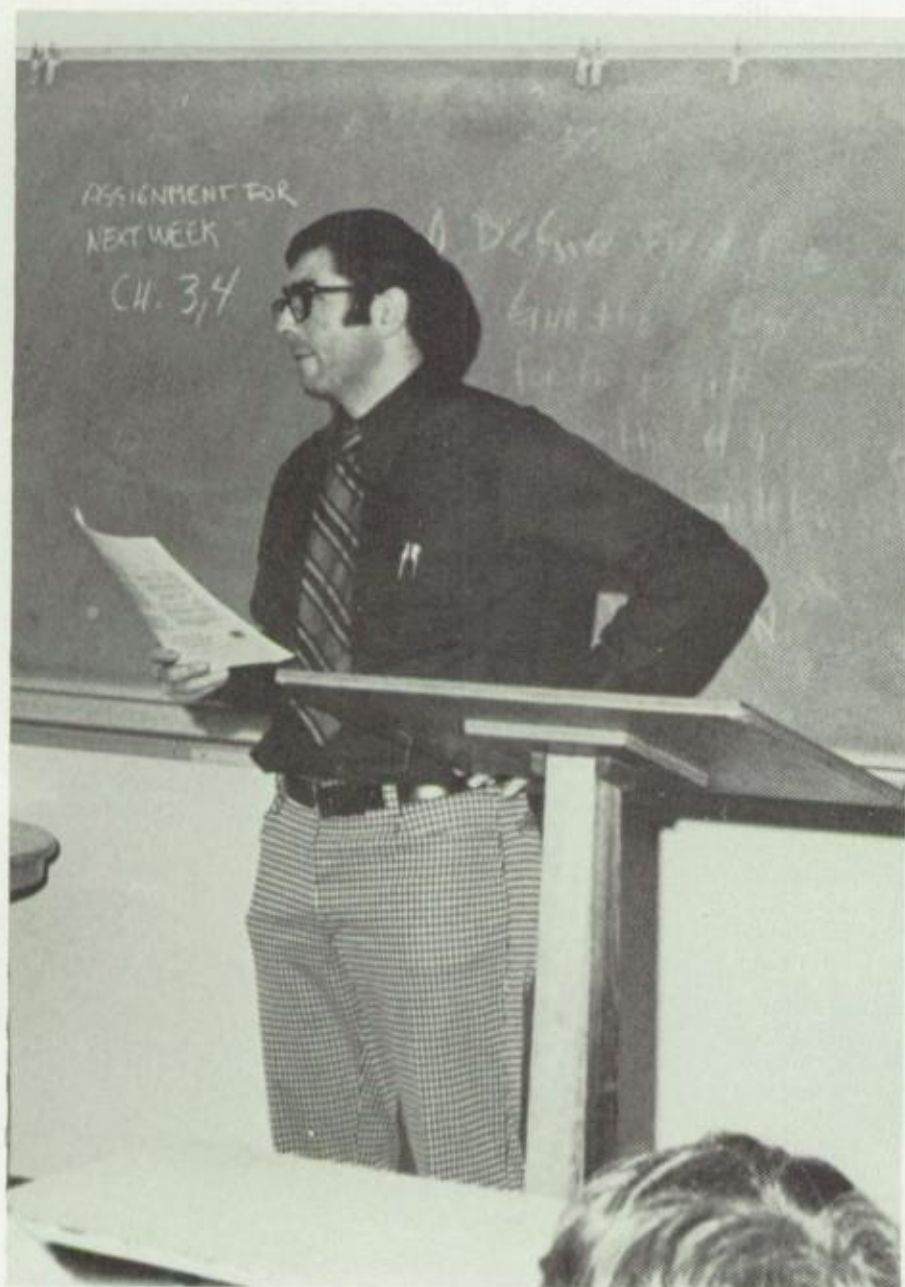

Giving an assignment to her Radio and TV class is Mrs. Mary Shelton.

Typing up a few last minute details is Mr. Bryson Wallace.

Mrs. Lorraine Krueger selects some paperback books for her English IXL class.

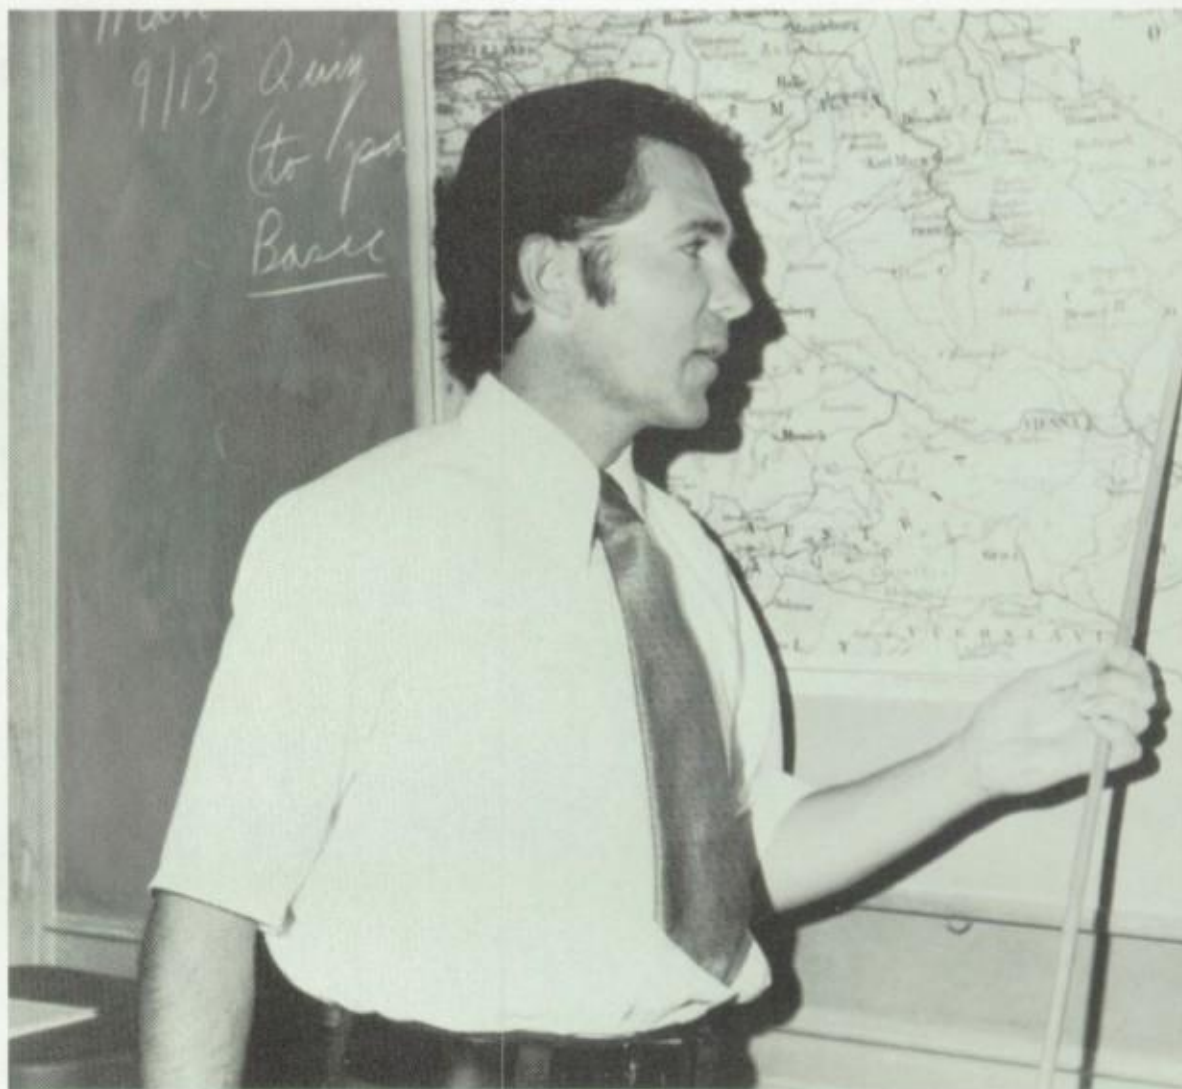

Pondering over a question is Mr. John Mahoney.

Mrs. Elaine Hanson checks her calendar.

Mrs. Linda Howarth delivers a lecture to her drama class.

Mr. Don O'Toole discusses current events with his Man and Society class.

Mrs. Sharon Crewe listens as one of her Spanish I students gives an oral report.

Listening attentively to a French dialogue is Miss Lois Hanson.

Foreign Languages Broaden Horizons

This year, the Foreign Language Department offered four languages: Latin, Spanish, German and French. For additional learning experience, the department sponsored the various language clubs.

Miss Lois Hanson has devoted much of her time as chairman of the department to making it an outstanding one.

Versatile Mr. Anton Pechaver taught German, Latin and World History.

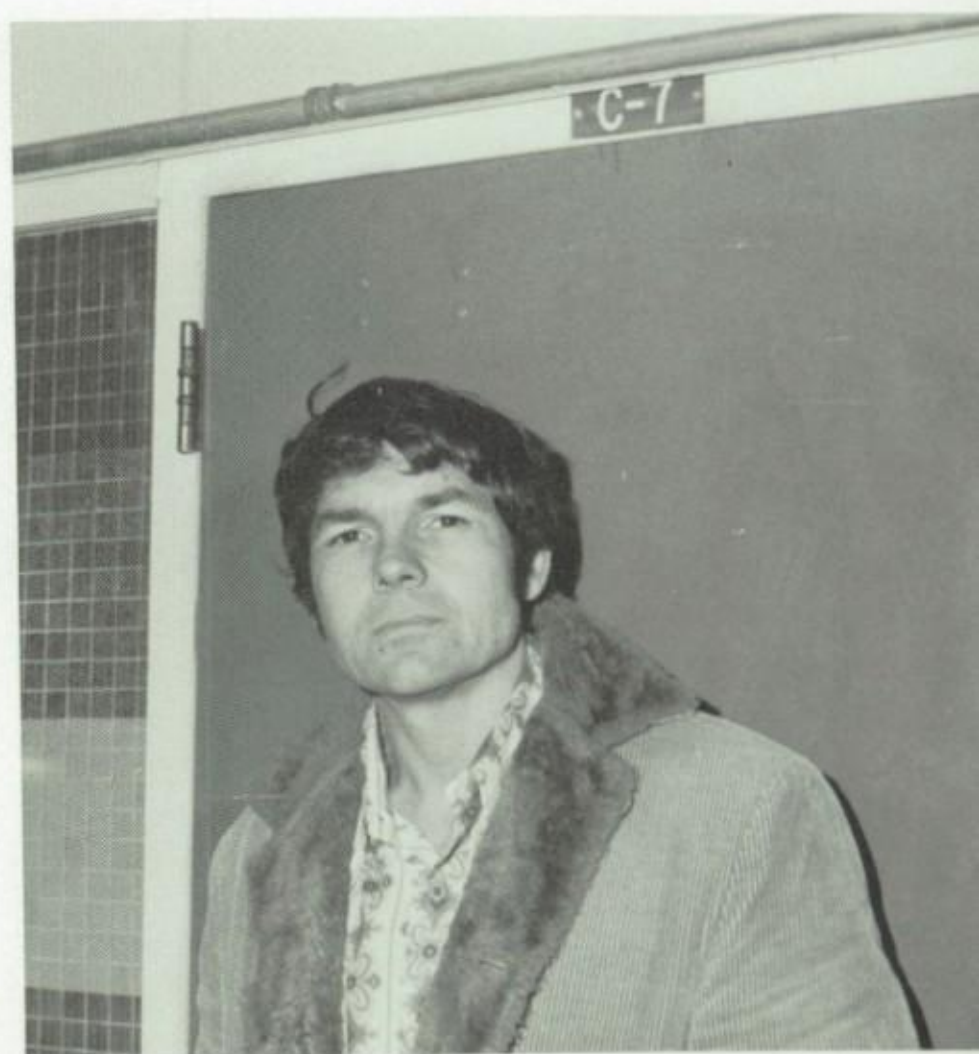

Mrs. Lucille Stacer greets her French 2 class.

Mrs. Katalin Ernest points out a chemistry formula to her class.

Mr. Ralph Blount supervises as his second period Physiology class removes the intestines from their cats.

A look of deep meditation prevails over Mr. Bruce Summers face.

Science Dept. Lets the Cat Out of the Bag

Dissecting cats was again the highlight of the Science year. Mr. Blount's Physiology classes received many stares and squeamish looks, but learned much about the physiology of humans. Biology, Physics, Chemistry, Life Science and Ecology also provided excellent learning opportunities.

Mr. Steve Wheeler leads a discussion in his Ecology class.

Mr. Barry Rannells, Department Chairman, explains the techniques of dissecting earthworms to his Biology class.

Mr. Bill Walton takes time out from the daily grind for a little refreshment.

Civics teacher Miss Edna Bertucci, relaxes after a strenuous day.

Health and Safety teacher Mr. Dan Greenwald does his "homework" in between classes.

Mr. Joe Richardson's bright smile was captured just as the bell rang for school to be let out.

Social Sciences Adds and Reorganizes

According to Mr. Darrell Jones, department chairman, the Social Science department was the best department at Bella Vista this year. A wide variety of classes were offered, including two new ones: psychology and anthropology. Psychology was taught by Mr. Joe Maloney, who now returned to B. V. after a three year absence.

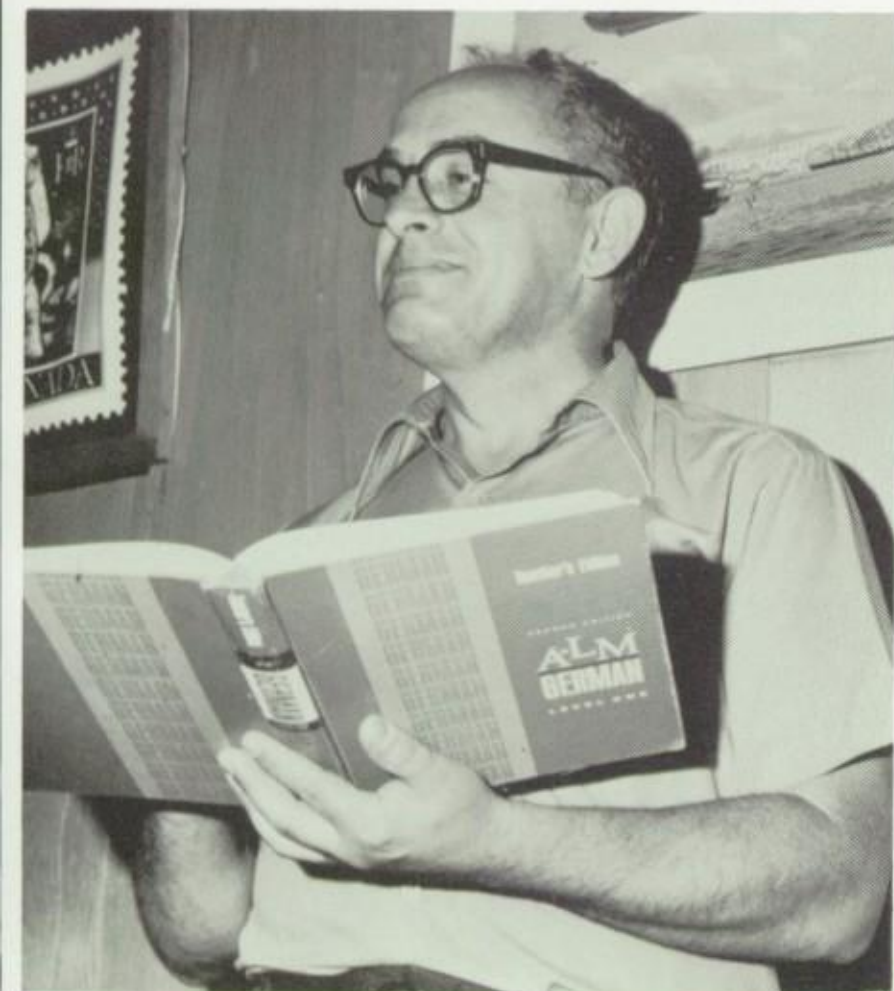

There was also a new look in Civics for Seniors. The course was revised so that it is more relevant to today's student.

Mr. Mike Erickson's Civics classes found that by dividing into small groups, their total involvement was required.

Social Science Department Chairman Mr. Darrell Jones, relaxing in the teacher's lounge, serves as both a Civics and anthropology teacher.

Mr. Anton Pechaver's stories of his past add variety to the German class.

Anthropology Class Digs Into Subject Matter

Mr. William Stewart listens to a student report.

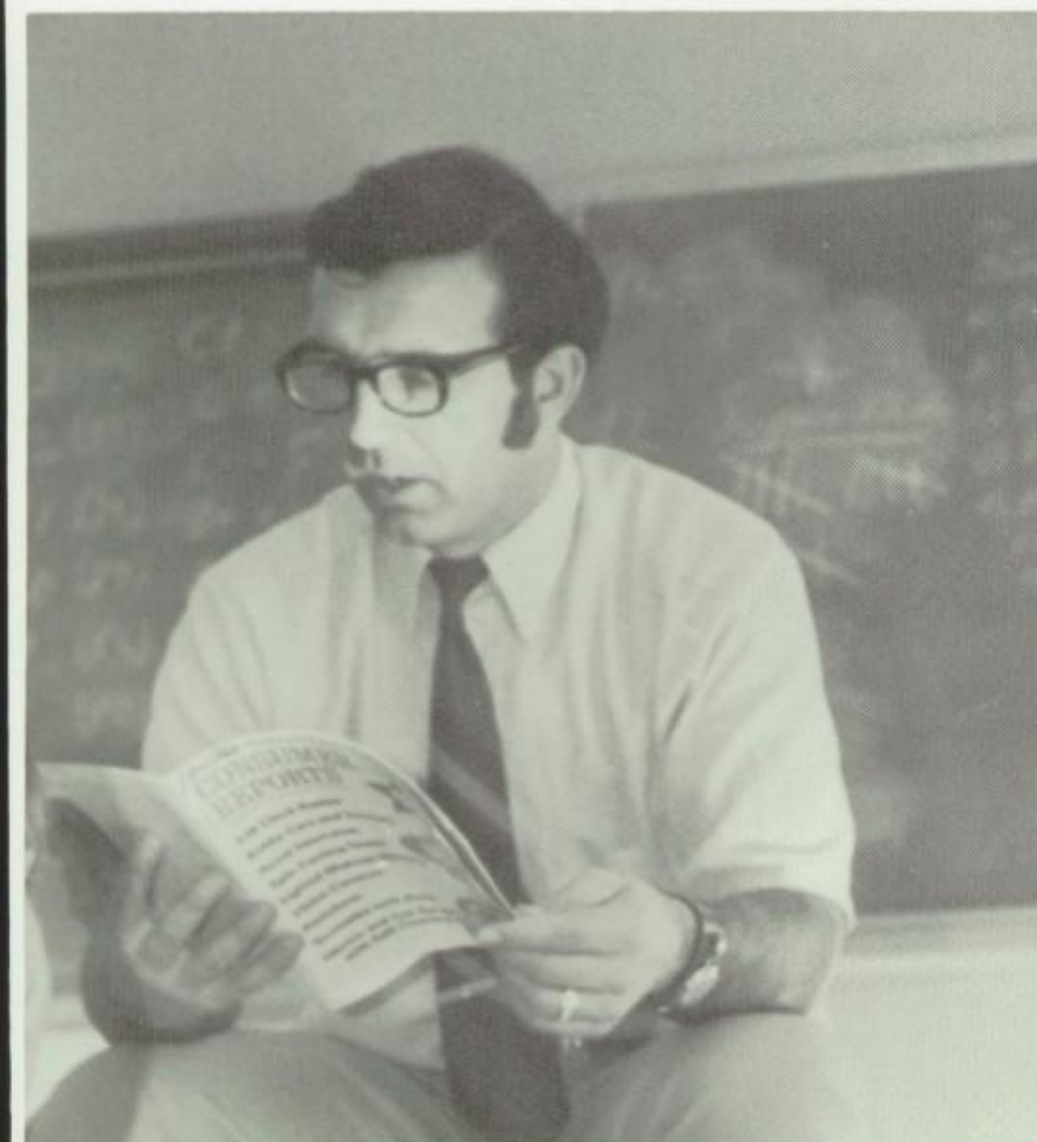

Mr. Ron White examines some test papers.

William Tell never had a subject as lovely as our own Miss Udean Fellows.

Mr. Joe Maloney leads the discussion in his history class.

Mr. Richard Gonsalves finds that Consumer Reports Magazines provide useful information for his Man and Society class.

Mr. Frank Berry enjoys a Christmas party in his P.A.G. class.

Remuda Goes to Press Despite Setbacks

Let's hear it for the yearbook staff! Their inexperience didn't stop them from creating a fabulous yearbook filled with action-packed photos and stories. Hours of work were devoted by each member to create this yearbook, but Debbie Brolin, editor-in-chief, and Mrs. Pat Byrnes, advisor, are the main reasons for this book's success. It has been hard work for all of them, but it has also been rewarding work. The 1973 Remuda staff:

Advisor: Mrs. Pat Byrnes
 Editor-in-chief: Debra Brolin
 Senior Class Editor: Susan Long
 Junior Class Editor: Barbara Harris
 Sophomore and Freshmen Class Editor: Mariaelena Lee
 Curriculum Editors: Barbara Krebs and Julie Martynse
 Organizations and Activities Editor: Gretchen Beck

La Bandera Staff Adds New Features

The addition of new columns and features sparked up this year's newspaper. Joe B. Vista was a new humor column; Sports Briefs, a column with various sports funnies, was also added.

The Editor for the year was Bruce Wood, and with the assistance of a fine advisor, Mr. Al Capovilla, the staff turned out many excellent newspapers throughout the year.

Hard at work are Kevin Rose, Vicki Wood, Gale Williams, Debbie Betenbaugh, and Valarie Schafer.

Mosaic Staff Holds Potluck Dinners

With the large number of compositions and poems to be graded, the MOSAIC staff held potluck dinners at several of their homes to complete the grading and selecting of materials to go into the 1973 MOSAIC. However, poems and compositions weren't the only things to be graded, the response to last years graffitti page was so great that it is back again this year. Miss Elissa Zitano, this years advisor, had some fresh ideas that promised to make MOSAIC '73 an even bigger success.

Decisions, Decisions, Decisions...

The main topic of discussion for the District Board this year was the problem of overcrowding in our high schools. Should we adopt the 45-15 plan? What about double sessions? and bussing? Should a new high school be built? These, and other questions were answered when, after careful consideration, the board chose to build a new high school.

Mr. George White patiently waits for some papers at the information desk.

Vice-Principal Robert Atteberry carefully searches for some valuable papers.

Principals, Students Achieve Unity

Mr. George White and Mr. Robert Atteberry worked with students this year to achieve a closer bond of friendship. To help achieve this unity, Mr. White and Mr. Atteberry have been involved in several student activities. As before, Mr. George White is continually "on the go" whether it be at coffee klatches to answer parent's questions, or at a meeting to express the school's view on an issue. Mr. White also held the annual visit to his cabin with executive board members.

Counselors Browsing Room Assists Students

The counselors had a larger group of students this year, but they always found time to help everyone, whether it be for advice on personal problems, schedule planning, or college assistance. The counselors scheduled periods for sophomores where they introduced them to the browsing room, a career guidance center. Hopefully the browsing room will help students when they choose their college and future career.

Our photogenic counselors are always willing to pose for the photographer. BOTTOM ROW: Mrs. Aileen Lorente, Mr. John Ross. ROW ONE: Mr. Milton Baldwin, Mr. Larry Brown.

In the seclusion of the woods, Assistant Principal Julia Reese discusses future plans with executive board members.

Mrs. Julia Reese is always available and ready to lend a helping hand.

Mr. Arthur Daniels, Assistant Principal, seems to be lost in thought as he ponders on a student's question.

The title Assistant Principal holds more responsibility than most people give credit. Imagine trying to cope with 2,000 students problems and at the same time while keeping 4,000 parents happy. Most people would be ready for a padded cell after a busy schedule like that, but somehow Mrs. Julia Reese and Mr. Arthur Daniels managed with fantastic results.

Mrs. Myrtle Reiman, Principal's Secretary, types some letters for Mr. White.

Mrs. Connie Gaines turns from typing Braille to talk to a student.

Mrs. Carol Johnson takes a break from the swift pace of the counseling office.

Mrs. Pauline Sirl discusses the attendance records with Mrs. Hetherington.

Classified Staff Maintains Efficiency

With the addition of a new member, Mrs. Evelyn Beauchamp, the classified staff continued to be efficient and helpful. Their many duties include secretarial work, record and bookkeeping, and library work.

As her IWE listens, Mrs. Evelyn Beauchamp explains how to type a ditto.

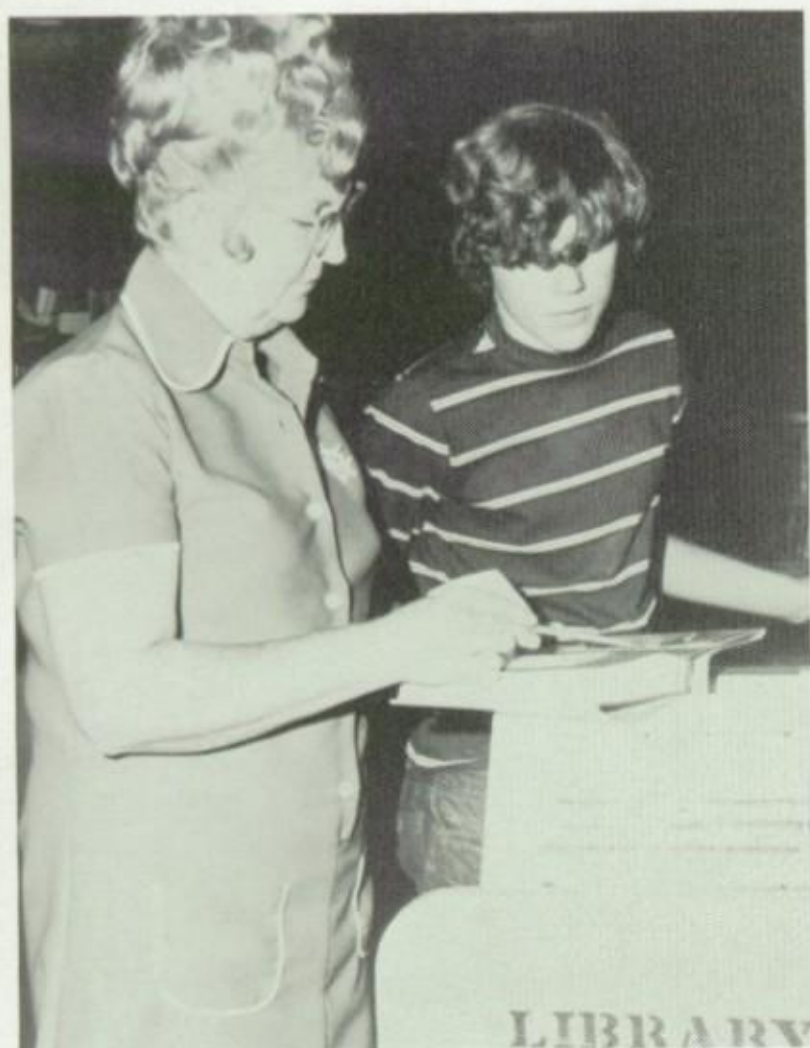

Mrs. Myrtle Reiman and Mrs. Elizabeth Handy discuss the latest fashions at Liberty House.

Mrs. Doris Bill checks some records in the financial office.

Mrs. Margaret Hetherington smiles as she writes out a pass for a late student.

"$14.95???" this student asks our Librarian Mrs. Mary Klausner, "but it's only overdue 42 weeks!"

Special Services Available to Many

The increased enrollment at B. V. brought special problems to our specialists. A Librarian, a Nurse, a Brailist, two Adaptive Physical Education specialists and a Special Education instructor provided for the specialized needs of some of our students. But even though they had responsibilities for more students, they always found time for individualized instruction.

Mrs. Anna Braunstien found that teaching the visually handicapped can be a rewarding experience.

Mr. Veral Orr poses with two of the students in his newly formed Opportunity class.

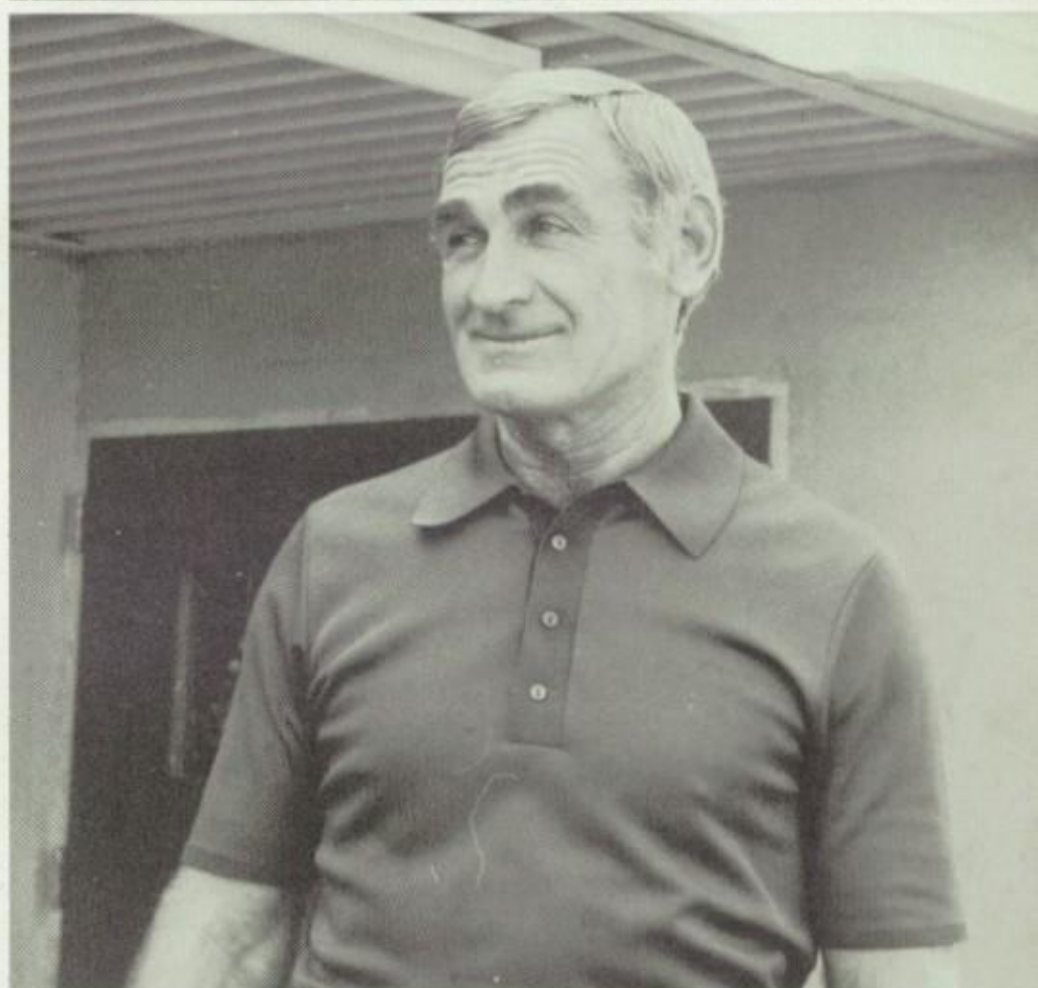

Specialized Instruction for Special Needs

"But I already wear glasses!" exclaims this patient to our nurse, Mrs. Lynn Phelan.

Mr. Harry Grine helps the special education students adapt to home and work situations.

Mr. Don McCormack (BOTTOM) and Mrs. Shirley Klein (TOP), adaptive P.E. instructors, were always adding new activities to their classes.

In adding a trailer at La Sierra, our special education students can develop home skills such as plumbing and landscaping. Each student stays in one area until he has completed it, and then moves on to another area. Next year it is hoped that there will be a trailer teaching home economics. By attending this trailer, the students will learn to adapt to home and work situations.

Helpful Assistance at B. V.

The custodians, cooks, and bus drivers of Bella Vista have proved themselves to be essential to our school system.

The custodians spent much of their time cleaning up and doing repairs around the school. Our cooks were kept busy preparing and serving food in the cafeteria. The bus drivers also contributed to the school effort by transporting students to and from school.

ACTIVITIES

Surprise and excitement enthrall Audrey Parkhurst, as she is announced Homecoming Queen

Fall registration caused quite a bit of confusion between some students and teachers.

Each of us as individuals participate in events that appeal to us, and those that are for the good of others. As we take time to look at these events as they go by, we start to remember and treasure them, but whatever the occasion, people participate and help to make many others have fun.

As the sun goes down, Bella Vista students banished all thoughts of the day, and gathered together to dance by the light of the moon. Etched in our memories are "The Get Acquainted", "Homecoming", "The Turkey Trot", and "Santa's Silver Bell Boogie" dances.

Dances: Freedom, Friends, and Fun

Many opportunities came up for students to meet friends, new faces and in some cases enemies --namely at our B.V. dances. Attendance was pretty good, for this is one recreation that allows shy people to open up and others to 'ham' it up.

"We've Got a Song to Sing"

During the ninth annual Bella Vista Homecoming, everyone out-did themselves; Seniors won the spirit march, Sophomores took the float competition, and the drill team performed their great black light routine. After a parade of princesses and floats, Audrey Parkhurst was crowned Queen at halftime of the Varsity game. Even through rain and a defeat to El Camino, Homecoming was a success, ending with the dance in honor of all alumni.

B.V. Goes 3-in-One

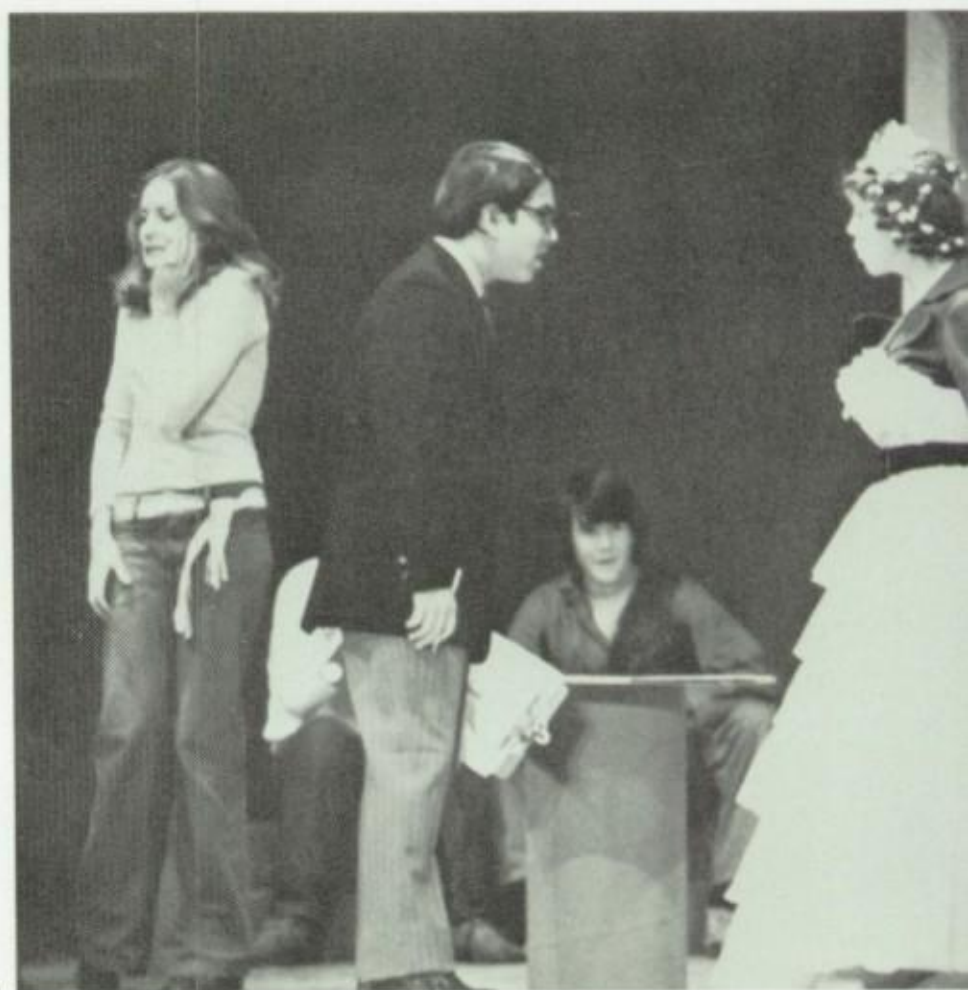

"Of Poems of Youth and Spring", "The Lottery", and "The Final Dress Rehearsal" were the three one-act plays put together for our Fall Play this year. Simple scenery and fancy light maneuvers were used to change sets while casts mixed to produce different characters. "Of Poems..." was the flowery story of youths falling in love in the spring time, Kim Belford, Jeff Andrews, and Russ Woody held leads. The "Lottery" showed a towns interpretation of population control, by holding a lottery and stoning the "Lucky" winner. The "Final Dress Rehearsal" was the story of problems that a cast has at their dress rehearsal. All in all the people involved in these fine art performances gave Bella Vista good entertainment this fall.

'A Year to Challenge and Keep Old Traditions'

Involvement in school has changed much as years go by, lots of apathy, but then again there's the usual spirit and enthusiasm too. Everyone works for a sense of satisfaction, dedication, fulfillment and fun. Look around and you can see it, touch it and live with it. Teamwork Is Successful in J.V. Football Season

An overall record of 4 wins, 6 losses, and a league record of 2 wins, 5 losses was chalked up by this year's J.V. Football team. Head Coach Larry Fletcher was assisted by Steve Woessner and Gerry Silva. The leading scorer for the season was F.J. Carney, who was also elected one of the tri-captains along with Matt Milton and Ken Blankenfeld. Stan Salva was chosen outstanding defensive player for the '72 season.

B.V. Polo Ponies Come Out on Top

After their third season in the CVC, the Bella Vista Polo Ponies have proved themselves to be one of the best teams in the district. Some of the outstanding players are Doug Reed, Marc Johnson, and Tamen Eidam. Under the direction of Coach Ron Bergmann the team compiled a 4-3 league record. The J.V. team is still building and with excellent players such as Jan Drupiewski, Dilan Eidam, and Bob Long, they have some good years to look forward to.

'73 Season is a Victorious One For B.V.

The Varsity Basketball team became accustomed to winning during the 1973 season. The team faced many tough opponents, but came out ahead in most instances. Kirt Huber was the top scorer for the year, and Monty Steen and Steve Watley the leading rebounders. Gordon Pistochini coached this team which provided Bella Vists with many exciting and high scoring games.

Free throws, play making, shooting, jump balls, rebounding, they are all parts of the game of basketball. It is a fast moving game, full of action and excitement and this year's J. V. team proved this in every game they played. Here are some pictures that tell just part of the story.

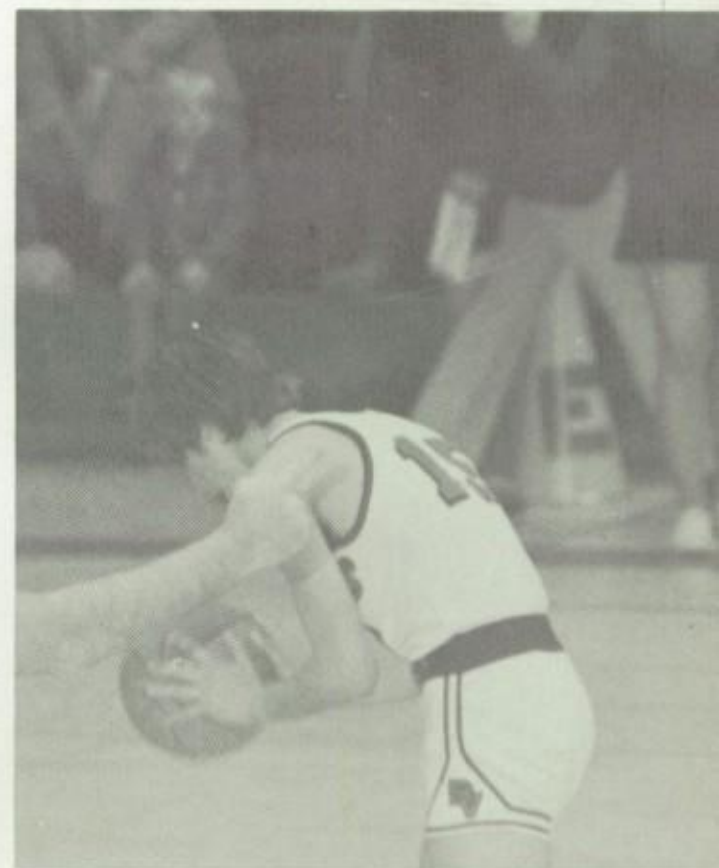

J. V. Faces Tough Opponents

Working as a team, fighting all the time, and winning, was typical of the J. V. Basketball team this year. After losing one of the top players, John Kersten, the going got tough for the team, but many other outstanding players kept striving until the end. Steve Cermack and Jeff Harter were the two top players, the coach for the season, Jim Law.

Sophs Fight Hard, Gain Experience

The 1973 Sophomore Basketball team was a tough and determined team. They fought hard and learned much. Learning to play as a team was one of the most important skills gained during the season. Their Coach was Roger Otte. Matt Milton lead the team along with Steve Enzler, Tim O'Neill, and Mark Milton.

Top Wrestlers Pace B.V. in CVC Meets

John Ware, Vic Henderson, Bob Bourdages and Chad Noland, were just a few of the outstanding wrestlers for the '73 season. Charles Lee coached the highly talented team which placed second in the CVD, losing only to Del Campo. But, the Varsity came back to win the CVC tournament and once again proved their superiority.

Strike Three, You're Not Out?

This years bowling team, under the direction of coach Jim Enos, placed 4th in the C.V.C. league. With 30 wins and only 18 losses the team was lead by Bob Shepard and Jim Martin both with a 176 average. The team practiced many long hard hours but their practice was not in vain as shown in their final results.

Vice Principal Julia Reese looks questionably at an outburst of laughter from Debbie Ravinale.

With a slow beginning, our student council met to discuss open campus, landscaping, smoking, and the new constitution. Homeroom members were elected in the beginning of the year, but now the new constitution makes every interested student eligible to be a member of student council. This was done in hopes of increasing student - administration relations.

Board members listen to reports and then bring up discussion on new topics.

President Paul Allard and Bruce Wood work out the fine print details needed for open campus.

Principal George White tells board members the elements that are involved in open campus.

Rewriting and condensing Bella Vista's old constitution took time and effort, but this year's executive board did the job, put it up to vote, and into effect. Paul Allard was appointed Student Body president. Discussions on open campus, student body card sales, and our foster children were main topics at board meetings. Two movies and two successful dances were held for the promotion of card sales. All in all our executive board has done much to keep communication between the administration and students open.

Peggy Swenson reads the final letter sent to Bella Vista from Kim Yong Koo, our first foster child.

Girls League members listen for instructions and wait to express ideas about twirp week.

After turning over nine boxes full of canned food to the Salvation Army for needy families at Christmas, the Girls League Fashion Show resulted in complete success. They also planned the Homecoming festivities and Twirp week. Overall supervision by Janis Simperman, Mrs. Mary Hilscher and Mrs. Susan Oelke, helped members to achieve their goals. Turning their energies and spirit toward group expression, Girls League has fulfilled their purpose to bring girls together and help others. Parker Defects to Australia

Yes, Debbie Parker, president of the International Friendship Club, departed to live in Victoria, Australia, January 10, as our foreign exchange student. She will be living in the land of Kangaroos until next January. Without President Parker, the I.F.C. continued to help Steve Young, from Scotland, during his stay here and raise money for AFS. As advisor of this friendly gang, Mr. Pechaver helped the I.F.C. put on the Homecoming dance and attend the Sierra College AFS workshop, potluck meeting.

Steve—You've Come a Long Way, and We're Glad!

Steve Young has traveled over oceans and across land to reside in Fair Oaks as our foreign exchange student. Interested in music and medicine, Steve plays the accordeon and has been accepted at Edinburgh University back home. He is going to major in pre-med. He likes it here very well and loves to learn about everything. Steve stayed with Mike Williams family. In January, Gary Moore, finished his stay in Argentina and returned home full of exciting experiences. He had been there a year and will never forget his great time there. Welcome home Gary!

Our French Club, small in number but big in ideas, planned to go see a French movie this year along with taking a jaunt to San Francisco for French cuisine. That's not all, our German Club celebrated Beethovens Birthday with a bang again this year. Attending the Sacramento Symphony Orchestra, and Foreign Film Festival, the German Club continued to pursue the fine intellectual arts for the satisfaction of it's members. Of course our newly formed Ski Club was not to be plowed under. They planned many ski escapades, hopefully not causing TOO many avalanches!!!

Brains, Business, and Hot Air

Letting off their steam in heavy disputes, the Bella Vista' Debate Club fired their lectures at one another for fun, and for experience. DECA raised money through candy and stationary sales. DECA has clubs all over the United States which help build leadership in marketing and distribution. Mr. Candido advised DECA and Mariaelena Lee was president. As always the California Scholarship Federation entices many scholars to pool their knowledge for fun, enjoyment as well as its benefits!

Traditional Reputation for Creativity Upheld

If you were looking for all the talented people in Bella Vista, we recommend that you check out the Art Club, where it was reported big things were happening. Grapevine rumors said that art club members traveled to Berkeley in quest of cultural education, along with an early breakfast before school to get the club going. Again cups for the faculty were made and plans for another fun filled feature film to raise money for the art department. Two sales were held, at Christmas and in the Spring, so members could sell their best achievements. Mainly they got together to expand art in themselves, the school, and the community. Ms. Collette and Mr. Ketelle advised these artists.

Photo Club, not to be forgotten, had some pretty creative camera bugs because of its information and training of good photography techniques. Many club members submitted pictures to the yearbook as their projects, and lots of time after school was put in to complete assignments and projects. Mr. Miglavs served as advisor and Bob Travis as president.

Chess Club: Mike Williams, Jimmy Bullinger, Brian Welton, and Fred Bell.

Working hard this year in environment education and curriculum planning for the San Juan School District, the Bella Vista Ecology Club did much with its small number. Main goals set for the club were working out elementary school wildlife programs, and of course improving the environment. Things haven't been easy with the lack of interest and carelessness of Bella Vista students. Just cleaning up the Arboretum, produced two garbage cans full of junk, and of course there was the hauling away of the remains of a certain class's float. Therefore, our salute to the underdogs who tried to make a path through pig pens for our benefit as well as theirs. Wake up Bella Vista, pitch in and help!

Helping in another way, is our Red Cross Club, doing volunteer work and raising money for needy families, while our chess club's main objective was to have a lot of games and fun. These junior Bobby Fischers got together Wednesday before school to challenge and compete with each other.

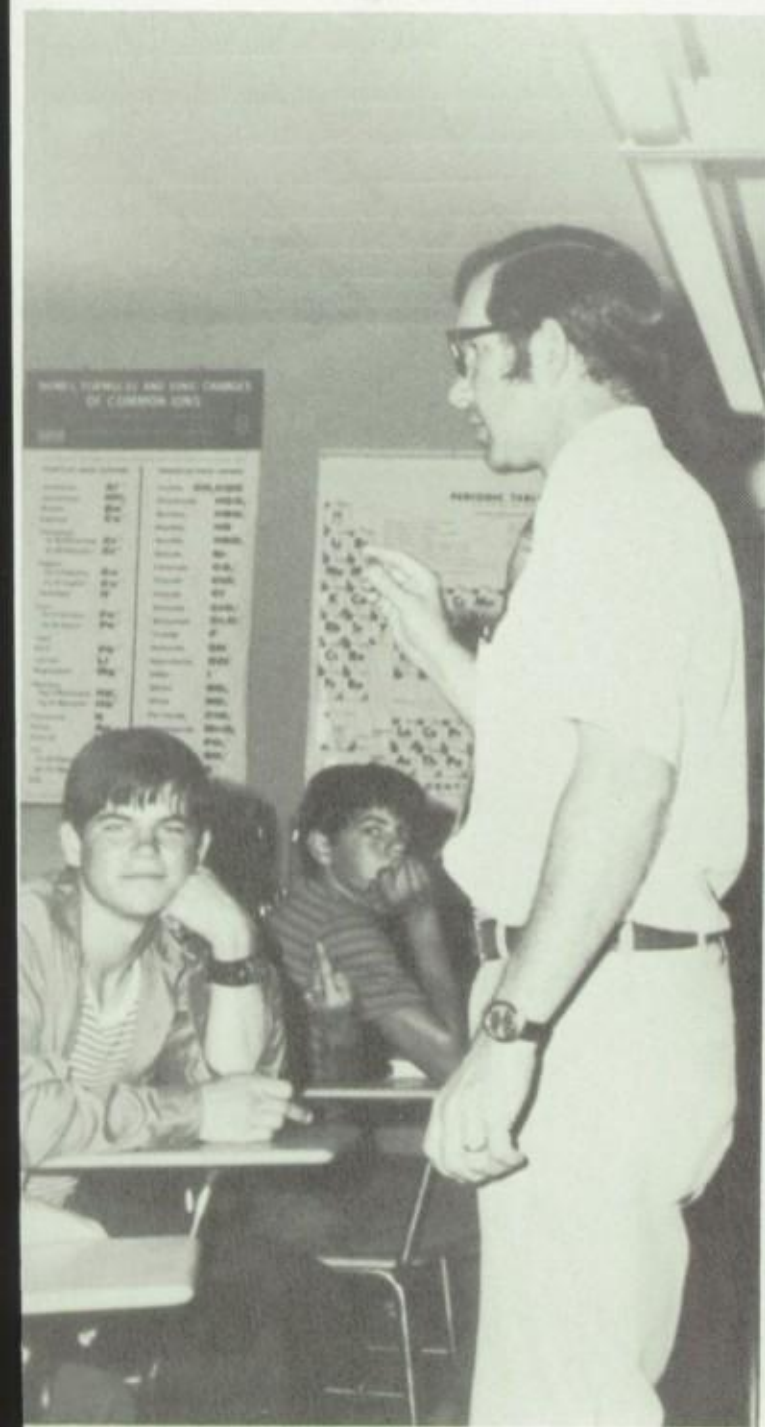

Ecology Club member, John Aikin, holds up it's newest member.

Seniors Versatility Pays Off

Among the qualities from this years' senior class, versatility was first on the list. Besides being active, the class of 1973 was found in all different aspects of life around the campus. Their creativity was showed with their 1972 Homecoming float. With overwhelming spirit the seniors took first place in the spirit contest homecoming week although their time is completed at B.V. We know these seniors will continue to use their skills for a life to come.

Students From Class of '73 Are Honored As Outstanding Seniors

Throughout the years Remuda has honored seniors who have devoted much time and energy to their class. To earn this title of Outstanding Senior these students have strived to make Bella Vista and the class of 1973's name bigger and better. These students were chosen by the faculty, administration and their fellow students, according to their academic achievement, leadership qualities, and involvement in extra-curricular activities.

Juniors Show Many Walks of Life

The Class of '74 kept itself very busy this year with a wide range of activities. With their Homecoming float entry "Song Sun Blue, Every Eagle knows one," the Junior class placed well in tight float competition. Money raising was an important activity with sales ranging from soap to suckers. With the new year arrival, plans and excitement arose for the junior prom.

Members of the Junior class were seen throughout the school participating in various events, ranging from dances, drill, team, and choir, to newspaper, yearbook and other scholastic events. All in all the Junior class contributed quite a bit to B. V.

Maybe this is the way Cher got her start?

Sophomores on the Go

One of the biggest activities planned by the sophomore class this year was the Christmas Dance. Going all out with decorations and anything else necessary, they made it an memorable occasion. With lots of pep the class was active in many school functions but also maintained a high academic level.

In between classes, this sophomore stops to change books at her locker.

Posing for a picture is great fun for this fellow.

Julia Sponseller enjoys the scene in front of her.

Carl Landingham and lab partner show the proper technique for weighing a burned candle.

Looking through books can be entertaining at times.

Bella Vista Newcomers

As newcomers each year, this years Freshmen showed an abundance of enthusiasm in their activities at school. Giving much support at games and rallies, Freshmen also found spare time for studying as shown by these pictures. Led by their enthused officers, Lori Baldwin, Lori Sutherland, Judy Ensign, and Laura Gore, the Freshmen made plans for what they hoped was a successful valentine dance.

After lunch, this group of Freshmen girls go back to class.

Although time has brought about many changes, there are still some sites left untouched, displaying the early days of the west. Sutter Street in Folsom, California is one of these sites. The variety of old fashion shops shown bring back memories of the old general store that supplied the gold miners with all their needs.

Time Passes Memories Remain

Thinking back now to the many long hours of work spent by the Remuda staff trying to produce a book that would in some way enlighten each and every person, I see that our time was not spent in vain. As each deadline rolled around, tension and pressure began to steadily build up, but somehow we always managed to pull through without too much hassle. There were many instances that most of us felt like quitting, but no matter how disturbed we got Mrs. Pat Byrnes was always there when we needed her with helpful hints and suggestions now that the book is finished, our task is completed and it's time to sit back and relax and observe the finished product. I've truly enjoyed every minute spent on the book and I feel it was a rewarding experience.

Throughout the year generous help was supplied by Bill Smith Photography and Mr. Dick Daniels, our representative from the American Yearbook Company. Also special thanks goes to Miss Udean Fellows, who sometime back sparked an interest of history in me that was responsible for this years Gold Rush theme. Last but certainly not least, my warmest respect and admiration go to the group that deserve recognition for their hard work, the 1973 Remuda Staff. These are the people that our thanks should be directed to.

Debbie Brolin
Editor-In-Chief

before,
I set down and tried to think what I should put in your yearbook. I don't know how to put it into words so an attempt would make me put words down that I don't want to write.
Call me some time and tell me how it is out there.

Richard Clark

Laura,
I really wish you weren't leaving.
Gosh, just think your going into "never never land." Well, what can I say, your a fantastic person, a honest and kind friend. And I'm glad for the talks we had in Art. I really hope you keep in touch somehow.
Maybe the four of us can get together sometime sue, Richard you and I. Take care, of your C.B. radio, Dont forget the time we went to the Art show and to see "Rusty," and when we saw "John". I really hope to see you sometime
Love Gale Williams
